ACCIDENTAL SHOT KILLS BRITTIN MAN

Amos Ives Shot When Presumably He Picked Up Rifle to Shoot Rabbit.

FOUND BY NEIGHBOR

Had Gone Into Field on Farm For a Load of Hay When Accident Occurred

Amos Ives, about 45 years old, living west of Brittin, accidentally shot and killed himself yesterday afternoon, according to the belief of officials and neighbors who investigated the shooting. An inquest was to be held late today.

Ives's body was found in the hayrack of a wagon last evening when a neighbor, Mr. Horner, noticed that the team was apparently caught in the trees and bushes near the Ives home. Investigating, he found the body. Presumably Mr. Ives had been shot while in a field and the team had wandered home.

A bullet from a .22-caliber rifle apparently pierced an eye, causing instant death. The supposition is that Mr. Ives, while out on a load of hay, picked up his gun to shoot a rabbit, and that in doing so the trigger caught and the gun was discharged.

It was about the middle of the afternoon when Ives went out to get some hay, according to neighbors. After the body was found officials were notified and arrived there late last night. This morning Sheriff Hedstrom, Deputies Kafer and Phelps and Acting Coroner Casselman, went to the scene of the accident.

Mrs. Ives and three children are visiting with her parents in Portsmouth, Ohio. A telegram informed her of the accident and she is returning.

Ives lived on the Red Trail about four miles east of Bismarck until about three years ago when he bought the farm near Brittin. He is survived by his wife and three adopted children, Annie, 12; Petronia, 8; and William, 4, and one daughter, Coral, the daughter of a former wife. He was a member of the Ancient Order of United Workmen and carried $1,000 in that order.

NEWSPAPERS HANDLED AS LETTER MAIL

Postmaster-General Says New Ruling Means Much to The Reading Public

Washington, Jan. 30.—Beginning Friday newspapers will be accorded the same treatment in the mails as letters and other first class matter by an order made public today by Postmaster General Nease.

"The order," he said, "means much to the American public. It is the most important and far-reaching step in postoffice history. It is for the benefit of those who desire to have their newspapers placed before them at an early moment as possible. This would keep both the city and rural population in closer and quicker touch with their several fields of activities."

The order states that the newspapers shall not be mixed with parcels post at any point in their dispatch from the publisher's office to the addressee.

LIBRARY BOARD MEMBERS NAMED

George Will, formerly a member of the city library board as the representative of the school board, has been named by the school board a member of the library board to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Mrs. Agatha Patterson. George Register has been named the school board's representative on the library board.

The city school board has authorized the issuance of $50,000 certificates of indebtedness under the law permitting their issuance in anticipation of tax payments. Probably $15,000 will be disposed of at this time, the certificates to be sold only as necessary.

INCREASE LODGINGS

Vienna, Jan. 30.—The increasing congestion in housing has led Vienna to extend its building plans and instead of 5,000 lodgings it will construct 20,000 during the year.

The whole scheme contemplates more than 25,000 new lodgings. Averaging 25 flats to a building it will be seen that the program is an ambitious one and will furnish continuous employment to the building trades.

BONDING FUND CASE WILL GO TO HIGH COURT

Defect Existing in Law, If Lower Court Ruling Is Sustained. Is at Issue

An apparent defect in the State Bonding Fund law, under a ruling by Judge James A. Coffey of district court, has created a condition which is expected to result in Commissioner of Insurance S. A. Olmsted or Harold Hopton, fund manager, asking the next legislature to amend it.

Under the law, if an official of a political subdivision discovers a default he must file a claim with the State Bonding Fund within 60 days or lose his right. Under the law, as ruled by Judge Coffey, private persons are excepted from such limitation.

The result was that, in the case of Mrs. Julia Madden against Harry Dunbar, former state license inspector, and the State Bonding Fund, Madden brought a claim about two years after the claim should have originated, according to fund managers and attorneys, and recovered $3,300. In the meantime Mr. Dunbar has left the state and was not present to interpose a defense. The bonding fund will seek a final ruling from the supreme court in the matter.

Under the law and the ruling there is no limitation of time after the individual sues on bonds, while such limitation is said to be the rule with private bonding companies.

PLANS MOVING FORWARD FOR FARM PARLEY

80 Representatives Are Invited by President to Attend the Conference

BIG PROGRAM IS UP

All Measures Affecting Agriculture to be Considered By the Meeting

Washington, Jan. 30.—While members of Congress despite the oil muddle continued their work on farm relief measures today administration officials went forward for their plans for the agricultural conference here Monday.

More than 80 representatives of interests affected by the agricultural situation have been invited by President Coolidge to attend the conference. The list was selected with a view to assembling the ideas of farmers, agricultural colleges, merchants, manufacturers, bankers, chambers of commerce, transportation and insurance and mortgage companies.

Among the topics already decided upon for consideration is the program on which the President and his advisers are working for relief of the credit stringency in the Northwest and the action yesterday of the senate agricultural committee in reporting favorably. The North-Buck-Burness bill making $75,000,000 available for loans to enable growers to diversify their products also is expected to receive considerable attention.

North Dakota men invited include John Lee Coulter, president of the North Dakota Agricultural college; L. B. Hanna, Walter R. Reed and H. Black, Fargo; J. D. Beeson and E. Spennan, according to "wireless" messages sent to General Diguez in Jalisco by General De La Huerta, revolt leader, which were intercepted and given out by the war department.

Fighting is in progress in the vicinity of Pontelion on the Jalisco front where the vanguard under General Amaro is engaging in the rear guard of the rebels under General Alvaro, according to press dispatches from headquarters of Gen. Obregon.

Ransom County Treasurer Asks $25,000 on Bonds

Lisbon, N. D., Jan. 30.—J. A. Gray, county auditor, will demand $25,000 from the State Bonding Fund on the bonds of the county treasurer and county commissioners, according to published statements here.

Ransom county had $24,382.68 in the suspended Ransom County Farmers' Bank, known as a Ray Craig bank, according to Gray. The county commissioners, H. W. Kile, O. O. Goldberg, E. K. Savre, J. P. Grange had taken a $25,000 personal bond as surety. It is alleged by Gray the bond is insufficient. He will demand reimbursement by the state fund on the county commissioners' bond and the bond of Peder Hill, county treasurer, who deposited the money.

LOWDEN URGES WHEAT POOL

Fargo, Jan. 30.—The fundamental principle of the co-operative marketing system as applied to wheat is to put the marketing of the commodity on the same basis as what is used by other industries. Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois and chairman of the National Wheat Committee, asserted in an address before farmers and business men here. Mr. Lowden also urged the wheat growers of North Dakota to combine their selling and purchasing power by forming a wheat pool.

Babe Weighing Three-Quarters Of Pound Lives

Ft. Worth, Texas, Jan. 30.—A baby girl weighing scarcely three-quarters of a pound and believed to be the smallest living child in the world is making a hard fight to live in a baby hospital here and much to the astonishment of the city's medical profession it is thought she will win her battle. The stark little girl was born Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock. The first born weighed one pound and six ounces and died Tuesday morning. The other twin was rushed to the baby hospital where it is being kept in an incubator. Physicians declare that the baby's breathing is regular and that she has the color of a healthy, well-developed babe.

WALKS 1,000 MILES TO SON

She took care of him. Three weeks ago Mrs. Hanson received word that her son was ill "somewhere in Detroit." She started out on foot and by the aid of free motor car rides reached here.

BISMARCK'S JUVENILE BAND TO MAKE FIRST PUBLIC APPEARANCE HERE IN CONCERT ON VALENTINE'S DAY FEB. 14

St. Valentine's Day, Thursday, Feb. 14, is the date set for the first public appearance of the Bismarck Juvenile Band. A free public concert will be given on the afternoon and evening of that date, under the direction of L. C. Sorlien at the Auditorium. It is earnestly hoped by the school authorities and the Association of Commerce under whose joint auspices this band is being developed that the quickened interest in the school organization, the youthful musicians who have been working hard since last July to give Bismarck a juvenile band.

The afternoon concert will be for the children of Bismarck and the evening affair will be restricted exclusively to adults. Boy scouts will act as ushers. It is hoped to make this a real community affair.

While there will be no drive for tickets, no admittance charged, those attending will have opportunity to contribute as they see fit through an offering. This will be purely voluntary, however, as the Band Committee of the Association of Commerce believes the juvenile band is strictly an educational feature of our public school work and while financial assistance is given outside school sources, it is hoped to make this band a public one that can be called upon for community service as necessity arises.

There are thirty-five pieces in the Juvenile band with a Junior beginners band of about the same number which means that about seventy children are receiving a musical education under the best of auspices. What counts most with the sponsors is to create a real deep community interest in the band. Support through applause and a friendly interest is what is most needed now. The small amount necessary to finance the extra expenses is not a matter of great moment.

Upon the program will be a cornet quartet, a flute duet and a saxophone quartet. Other interesting numbers are being added to the program which will be announced in the near future.

Get behind your band.

BRITISH SOON TO RECOGNIZE SOVIET RUSSIA

These observers say premier MacDonald is anxious to have recognition an accomplished fact before parliament meets February 12.

NOTHING PAID ON MANY LOANS

200 of 687 of "Series A" Are Said Delinquent

Approximately 200 of the 687 loans of the farm loan department of the Bank of North Dakota known as "Series A" are delinquent in the entire principal and interest according to records of the farm loan bank as given by G. Olgerson, head of the collection department.

The "Series A" farm loans total $2,517,200.00, according to the Bishop, Bismarck audit report on the bank, and embrace most all the loans made by the farm loan department when it was under the Nonpartisan League administration. The farm loan business of the bank was under fire in the 1921 legislative investigation, when it was charged excessive loans had been made and the state had "bought" much land.

The Bishop, Bismarck report showed that the delinquent interest on this series of loans totalled $226,622.30.

Hastings and Townley Attorneys Tried to Show Brinton Checked Without O. K.

Fargo, Jan. 30.—In the cross-examination of J. W. Brinton, complaining witness in the case of A. C. Townley and J. J. Hastings, charged with embezzlement of $72,903.33 of consumer goods from the Brinton company, counsel for the defendants this morning sought to prove that the money was not the property of the stores company save for a small amount.

W. S. Lauder, counsel for Townley, examined the witness at length regarding the $72,903.33 which Brinton claims was deposited in the Scandinavian-American Bank to the credit of the stores company and used by Hastings for other purposes.

The defense contends that Hastings informed Brinton, who was general manager of the stores company, that he should not check against the $72,903.33 because it belonged to the Scandinavian-American Bank, the Equity Cooperative Exchange, the Nonpartisan League and the stores company. The money was obtained from the Security Mortgage Company of America, a St. Paul company, on "C. D.'s" belonging to the various organizations. It was contended by the defense.

Mr. Brinton denied that Hastings had given him any such information, saying that he said: "The money should not be checked against them at this time."

Amos Ives Shot When Presumably He Pulled Up Rifle to Shoot Rabbit

FOUND BY NEIGHBOR

Had Gone Into Field on Farm For a Load of Hay When Accident Occurred

Amos Ives, about 45 years old, living west of Brittin, accidentally shot and killed himself yesterday afternoon, according to the belief of officials and neighbors who investigated the shooting. An inquest was to be held late today.

Ives' body was found in the hayrack of a wagon last evening when a neighbor, Mr. Horner, noticed that the team was apparently caught in the trees and brush near the Ives home. Investigating, he found the body. Presumably Mr. Ives had been shot while in a field and the team had wandered home.

A bullet from a .22-calibre rifle apparently pierced a lung, causing instant death. The supposition is that Mr. Ives, while out after a load of hay, picked up his gun to shoot a rabbit, and that in doing so the trigger caught and the gun was discharged.

It was about the middle of the afternoon when Ives went out to get some hay, according to neighbors. After the body was found officials were notified and arrived there late last night, returning to Bismarck at 6 o'clock this morning. Sheriff Hedstrom, Deputy Kauter and Wagon and Acting Coroner Casselman, went to the scene of the accident.

Mrs. Ives and three children are visiting with her parents in Portsmouth, Ohio. A telegram informed her of the accident and she is returning.

Ives lived on the Red Trail about four miles east of Bismarck until about three years ago when he bought the farm near Brittin. BONDING FUND
CASE WILL GO TO HIGH COURT

Defect Existing in Law. If Lower Court Ruling Is Sustained, Is at Issue

An apparent defect in the State Bonding Fund law, under a ruling by Judge James A. Coffey of district court, has created a condition which is expected to result in Commission of Insurance, S. A. Olness or Harold Hopton, fund manager, asking the next legislature to amend it.

Under the law, if an official of a political sub-division discovers a default he must file a claim with the State Bonding Fund within 60 days or lose his right. Under the law, as ruled by Judge Coffey, private persons are excepted from such limitation.

The result was that, in the case of Mrs. Julia Madden against Harry Dunbar, former state license inspector, and the State Bonding Fund, Mrs. Madden brought a claim about two years after the claim should have originated, according to fund managers and attorneys, and recovered $5,300. In the meantime Mr. Dunbar has left the state and was not present to interpose a defense. The bonding fund will seek a final ruling from the supreme court in the matter.

Under the law and the ruling there is no limitation of time affecting individuals suing on bonds, while such limitation is said to be the rule with private bonding companies.

Fargo, Jan. 30.—The fundamental principle of the cooperative marketing system as applied to wheat is to put the marketing of that commodity on the same basis as what is used by other industries. Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois and chairman of the National Wheat Commission, asserted in an address before farmers and business men here. Mr. Lowden also urged the wheat growers of North Dakota to combine their selling and purchasing power with that of other farmers, members of the North Dakota Wheat Growers association.

VENIZELOS
TAKEN ILL

Athens, Jan. 30.—For the second time since he returned to Greece, Premier Venizelos became ill yesterday during a heated debate in the national assembly and was obliged to leave the chamber. He was taken to his home.

The physicians who attended the premier said he was suffering from a recurrence of his recent heart attack due to excitement while replying to the determined opposition to M. Papanastassiou, Republican leader, to the government's proposal to rescind the revolutionary decree suppressing the royalist newspapers.

After the premier had departed the assembly by a vote of 208 to 59 adopted the government's proposal to rescind the revolutionary decree suppressing the royalist newspapers. The minister of justice said the government attached vital importance to the proposal.

Detroit, Mich., Jan. 30.—(By the A. P.)—Mrs. Mary Hanson watches at the bedside of her son, Joseph, here today after walking more than 1,000 miles from Sioux Falls, S. D. to take care of him. Three weeks ago Mrs. Hanson received word that her son was ill "somewhere in Detroit." She started out on foot and by the aid of free motor car rides reached here.

BISMARCK'S JUVENILE BAND TO MAKE FIRST PUBLIC APPEARANCE HERE IN CONCERT ON VALENTINE'S DAY FEB. 14

St. Valentine's Day, Thursday, Feb. 14, is the date set for the first public appearance of the Bismarck Juvenile Band. A free public concert will be given on the afternoon and evening of that date, under the direction of L. C. Sorlien at the Auditorium. It is earnestly hoped by the school authorities and the Association of Commerce, under whose joint auspices this band is being developed that packed houses will greet both appearances of the youthful musicians who have been working hard since last July to give Bismarck a juvenile band.

The afternoon concert will be for the children of Bismarck and the evening affair will be restricted exclusively to adults. Boy scouts will act as ushers. It is hoped to make this a real community affair.

While there will be no drive for tickets, no admittance charged, those attending will be given opportunity to contribute as they see fit through an offering. This will be purely voluntary, however, as the Band Committee of the Association of Commerce believes the juvenile band is strictly an educational feature of our public school work and while financial assistance is given outside of school sources, it is hoped to make this band a public one that can be called upon for community service as necessity arises.

BRITISH SOON TO RECOGNIZE
SOVIET RUSSIA

London, Jan. 30.—Full diplomatic recognition of Soviet Russia by the British government is expected within 10 days, according to political observers conversant with the labor government's intentions. These observers say premier MacDonald is anxious to have recognition accomplished fast before parliament meets February 12.

NOTHING PAID
ON MANY LOANS

200 of 687 of "Series A" Are Said Delinquent

Approximately 200 of the 687 loans of the farm loan department of the Bank of North Dakota known as "Series A" are delinquent in the entire principal and interest according to records of the farm loan bank as given by G. Olgersen, head of the collection department.

The "Series A" farm loans total $2,517,200.00, according to the hop, Brissman audit report on the bank, and embrace most all the loans made by the farm loan department when it was under the Nonpartisan League administration. The farm loan business of the bank was under fire in the 1921 legislative investigation, when it was charged excessive loans had been made and the state had "bought" much land.

The Bishop, Brissman report showed that the delinquent interest on this series of loans totalled $226,622.30.

MINISTER IS HELD THIEF

Munich, Jan. 30.—Emil Pielmeier, minister of war during the Communist uprising in Munich early in 1918, was arrested recently on a charge of stealing bicycles. The police said Pielmeier had been following the practice for months.

Most of the other insurrection cabinet members, including Kurt Eisner, the leader, were shot by government troops.

LABOR PARTY AT UNIVERSITY
London, Jan. 30.—A Universities Labor party has been organized which will select candidates to contest every University seat in Great Britain at future elections. The leaders in the new organization are Arthur Greenwood and Professor Finlay of Manchester University. The both of whom contested unsuccessfully university seats in the last election.

DRY LEADER IN NEW YORK HELD
GUILTY OF FORGERY; WILL APPEAL

New York, Jan. 30.—(By the A. P.)—Dry leaders today intimated that William H. Anderson, state superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of New York, convicted by a jury before Supreme Court Justice Tompkins last night of third degree forgery, probably would appeal the verdict before February 5, the date set for pronouncement of sentence.

Anderson received unflinchingly the verdict which was returned after the jury had deliberated an hour and forty minutes. Bail of $5,000 in which the dry leader has been at liberty since the indictment was returned, was continued.

Appearing with the band will be the High School orchestra which has been formed under Prof. Sorlien. This organization is recruited from the older students who have had musical training. Several numbers on the evening program will be given by the high school organization.

The Juvenile Band has been practicing for the concert for sometime and several additional rehearsals are to be held during the next few weeks. Those who have had the pleasure of attending some of the rehearsals are favorably impressed with the progress made in less than a year's time.

There are thirty-five pieces in the Juvenile band with a junior beginners band of about the same number which means that about seventy children are receiving a musical education under the best of auspices. What counts most with the sponsors now is to arouse a real deep community interest in the band. Support through applause and a friendly interest in what is most needed now. The small amount necessary to finance the extra expenses is not a matter of great moment.

Upon the program will be a cornet duet, a flute duet and a saxophone quartet. Other interesting numbers being added to the program which will be announced in the near future.

Get behind your band.

DOHNEY REAPPEARS
California Oil Magnate Wants to Testify Again Before Committee

Washington, Jan. 30.—The government's first affirmative action toward prosecution of the oil cases was taken today while the senate was debating the Walsh annulment resolution. President Coolidge conferred at length with Silas H. Strawn, who with Thomas W. Gregory, will act as special government counsel and immediately afterward Mr. Strawn began the collection of evidence.

Just before the senate renewed its floor discussion the oil investigating committee heard four physicians testify that the present condition of former Secretary Fall would not warrant his appearance at a public hearing. The committee then decided to send a medical commission of its own to examine him.

E. L. Dohney appeared at the committee room during the morning and requested that the committee hear him, but adjournment was taken until Friday without his being placed on the stand. He did not announce the purpose of his return to Washington.

At the house end of the capitol the naval committee began a hearing on the disposition made of royal oil from the Sinclair and Dohney leases with Navy department officials as witnesses.

Besides the Walsh annulment resolution passage of which is expected today the senate has on its waiting list resolutions asking for removal of Secretary Denby and Attorney-General Daugherty, one proposing to reassert title to oil land in California held by Standard Oil and one appropriating $500,000 for the court prosecutions, amended today in committee to provide that the special counsel employed must be confirmed by the senate.

SELL CHAMPAGNE

Berlin, Jan. 30.—One of the odd combinations brought about by the Berlin Phillips is collection for the league, to Phillips' expense account after it had been agreed that Phillips and Anderson were to "split" the former's annual commissions in excess of $10,000 annually.

The extreme statutory penalty for the conviction is five years in the penitentiary but members of the district attorney's staff asserted first offenders sometimes were given six months sentence.

Interest in the case ran so high that the verdict was announced in theaters during intermissions.

Hastings and Townley Attorneys Tried to Show Brinton Checked Without O. K.

Fargo, Jan. 30.—In the cross-examination of J. W. Brinton, complaining witness in the case of A. C. Townley and J. J. Hastings, charged with embezzlement of $72,903.33 of Consumers United States Company, counsel for the defendants this morning sought to prove that the money was not the property of the stores company save for a small amount.

W. S. Lauder, counsel for Townley, examined the witness at length regarding the $72,903.33 which Brinton claims was deposited in the Standard American Bank, the Equity Cooperative Exchange, the Nonpartisan League and the stores company. The money was obtained from the Security Mortgage Company of America, a St. Paul concern, on "C. D."s" belonging to the various organizations, it was contended by the defense.

Mr. Brinton denied that Hastings had given him any such information, saying that he said: "The money should not be checked against them at this time."

LIGNITE COAL PRODUCTION AT HIGHEST POINT

Production During Year 1923 Reached Total of Over 1,300,000 Tons

BURLEIGH GREATEST
More Coal Produced in This County Than Any Other. Reports Show

Production of lignite coal in North Dakota mines reached the highest figure in 1923 in the history of the mining industry in the state, according to a report made public today by J. P. Mellon, state mine inspector. The production was 1,345,605 tons, as compared to 1,057,823 tons in 1922, 885,715 tons in 1921 and 502,628 tons in the year 1911, according to the report. Value of the coal is placed at $5,742,415.15.

The boom in the lignite industry during the coal shortage and period of high prices for eastern coal, is attributed in part to the educational campaign carried on by the North Dakota Lignite Coal Operators Association, which has resulted in many large utility and industrial plants installing special apparatus for use in burning lignite coal.

There were 253 lignite coal mines producing in the state last year, according to the report. The highest producing county is Burleigh, with 241,276 tons of coal, and next is Burke with 226,383 tons of coal produced last year. Mercer was third with 205,831 tons of coal, and production in no other counties exceeded 150,000 tons.

Mr. Mellon, stating the increase in production over the previous year, estimated that 73.5 percent of coal were mined and not reprocessed. Accidents were reported as follows:

Recommendation is made that funds be provided for the department for the purchase of apparatus to be used in fighting mine fires or in rescue work. Legislation regulating the control of fires by the mine department is urged, and increased appropriations for the department asked. The increase in the production of lignite coal by years is given as follows:

Year	Tons
1911	502,628
1912	499,480
1913	495,320
1914	506,945
1915	529,054
1916	634,912
1917	790,548
1918	815,000
1919	745,594
1920	878,969
1921	885,715
1922	1,057,823
1923	1,345,605

The production of coal by counties is given as follows:

County	Tons
Adams	78,007
Billings	41,317
Bismarck	36,965
Burke	226,383
Burleigh	241,276
Devils	54,828
Dunn	13,741
Golden Valley	427
Grant	13,728
Hettinger	19,625
McLean	149,162
Mercer	205,831
Morton	67,686
Minot	3,351
Oliver	2,115
Stark	70,186
Ward	72,610
Williams	89,464.79

Total production, 1,345,605.54 tons. The state of South Dakota's mine at Haynes produced, according to the report, 41,226 tons of coal in 1923.

OLD FRONTIER HAS GONE, SAYS BARRY LETTER

The old frontier is not merely passing; it has gone, says D. E. Barry, noted photographer of Indians and former resident of Bismarck, in a letter to the New Tribune of Duluth. His letter follows:

NOT PASSING BUT GONE

To the Editor of The New Tribune: I have been the old frontier for many years, in fact gone. The first of last August I attended the McLaughlin's funeral at the Standing Rock reservation. There must have been 5,000 Indians there. Had you been there and seen all the automobiles—must have been 500 of them owned principally by Indians and some of the old way path Indians at that. You surely would have seen them to enjoy the smell of gasoline. The old Indian and wife seated in the back seat of the car—son or daughter at the wheel—and don't you think they didn't enjoy that well cushioned seat. The buffalo gone.

DON'T BLAME THE CHILD

Don't scold your children for lack of control over the kidney secretions. It is not always the children's fault—in many cases it means weak kidneys and can be readily righted. Read this Bismarck father's advice. Wm. O. Baer, carpenter, 221 S. 5th St., says: "My little girl was troubled with kidney weakness and she had no control over the kidney secretions. She was nervous and peevish and was often restless at night. The complaint came on after she had recovered from infantile paralysis and it seemed to leave her kidneys weak. I started her on Doan's Backache Kidney Pills being so good for kidney trouble and thought it well to try them on the child. After taking them she got over the trouble and her health picked up at once and she is now strong and healthy." Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, 50c at all dealers. Middle Road Is Way to Happiness, Says Oberammergau's "Christ"

ANTON LANG, THE CHRIST OF OBERAMMERGAU

BY ROY J. GIBBONS
SEA Service Writer
Cleveland, O., Jan. 27.—To the middle of the road, where that great peace and happiness may come to you.

By Anton Lang, Christ of the Oberammergau Passion Play, a troupe now touring the United States, is this message added to the American people. "Severely distressed and, with eyes that in deep, recessed sockets seemed to burn behind a thick entanglement of hair and beard, this simple Bavarian peasant spoke these words to me."

Not as preachment nor the stirrings of a humanitarian's attitude did they come. But from lips that spoke calmly, they were given, as the reflections of an ordinary man who for years literally has followed in the footsteps of a Calvary-oblated Savior.

"Behold the Ueberfluth," said the "Christ" of the Oberammergau Passion Play, "the Ueberfluth of the world. To his nation Germany, which is an equivalent in the English translation of 'surplus' or 'overflowing,' Lang the Christ dedicated his conversation."

Transit from meager fare in his war-torn country to the uncalculated luxury of ample abundance showered upon him in America, has shocked Lang's unprepared simplicity.

Perhaps at the time he might have been secretly reminding of the faithful "off" and his brood of hungry kiddies tucked away in the sequestered hamlet across the sea.

But anyhow, in an English that clicked and halted under the straining self-consciousness of a limited vocabulary, this man from a village where Christ crucified is the exemplar of daily life, said the "Christ" of the Oberammergau Passion Play, "the Ueberfluth" was not good.

"Always the middle way is the best way," he averred. "To much or too little works hard-hips, because, with abundance, or long privation, the mind forsakes God."

Condemns Prohibition as Extreme. "That is why extremes are bad," the rattle-snake, gone, the Indians gone, with his blanket and his bow, I failed to see one black Indian. What a change had taken place in 44 years. Had I seen one black Indian it would have taken me back to the days of the old frontier. I don't say passing for I will swear it's gone, and they love the perfume of gasoline. Yours truly, D. E. BARRY, Superior, Jan. 22.

A total of 26,336 miles of federal aid roads was completed by June 1, 1923, according to the United States Department of Agriculture.

The Treasury department, which has complete charge of prohibition enforcement, has requested a large appropriation for the construction of additional vessels and increased personnel for the popular Coast Guard.

CITY'S WATER BILLS MUST BE PAID PROMPTLY

Hughes Electric Company Gets Water From Well; McKenzie Completing Well

City waterworks bills must be paid hereafter by the 15th of the month after they are due on the first, under a resolution passed by the city commission at its meeting last night. The resolution provides that if bills are not paid by the 15th the water will be shut off and a charge of $1 will be made for connecting again after the delinquent bill is paid. This is the system used in other city water departments in the state, it was said. The city waterworks is showing a profit, it is understood. Its revenue has been cut by the action of the Hughes Electric Company in digging a well at its electric light plant to furnish water used in evaporating steam and similar uses. E. C. Patterson is having a well dug to furnish water for his hotel. The well will be completed soon. One other hotel already has its own water system.

The commissioners in their meeting last night discussed the proposition of collecting the school poll tax of $1, which is required to be paid by every citizen 21 years of age, male or female. The tax is added to the bills of those who pay taxes, but many "floaters" are missed under the present system of having the county treasurer collect the taxes. The proposition of having the chief of police collect it was discussed.

L. S. Craswell, superintendent of the North Dakota Independent Telephone Company, proposed a new fire alarm system to the city commissioners. He would have the whistle at the light plant and gongs in the fire hall and homes of firemen connected with the phone company. When a fire call is put in he would have the phone girl press a button which would cause the fire whistle to sound one long blast and ring the gongs in the homes of the firemen. This would be followed by giving the alarm by the siren. He expressed belief the system would save time. The financial report of the treasurer and manager of the city auditorium for the six months ending January 1, 1924, was presented as follows:

In addition to the payments above made, the city has paid out during this same six months $317.74 for coal and repairs. The statement was signed by E. H. L. Vesperman, manager, and A. J. Arnot, city treasurer.

While a profit is shown from the "road shows" the Auditorium has been used free for conventions and similar occasions many times in the last several months which cuts down the balance, according to the officials.

MCCUTCHAN, INMAN-SLAYER, BEGINS SEVEN YEAR TERM
Amidon, N. D., Jan. 29.—David M. McCutchan has begun to serve a seven year sentence for manslaughter, for the killing of Walter Inman at Amidon on March 1922. McCutchan was taken to Dickinson Saturday by Sheriff A. C. Slade.

For the last year McCutchan has been on his farm near Amidon pending an appeal to the supreme court. Last Friday Judge Pugh denied an extension of time for filing appeal to Emil Scow and F. F. Murtha, McCutchan's attorneys.

TUBERCULOSIS BODY WORK OF YEAR IS TOLD

Has Accomplished Much, and Plans Extension of Future Activities

TRAVELING CLINIC

The North Dakota Tuberculosis Association, believing that much has been accomplished by the organization, will continue its vigorous campaign for the promotion of public health work. This was the sentiment expressed in the annual meeting of the officers and executive committee here.

One of the activities of the association has been a traveling clinic, sent into many counties of the state to demonstrate effective methods of preventing tuberculosis and promotion of general health conditions. Clinics were held in a territory with a total population of 73,142. The clinic traveled 4,835 miles and examined 4,077 people. Of these 176 were found to have respiratory diseases of which 57 were diagnosed as tuberculosis and 72 as cases of organic heart disease. The clinic went into the most out-of-the-way places in the state, but one public nurse being found in the territory in western and Northwestern North Dakota. The clinic was made possible through sale of Christmas seals.

"One of the original purposes of our organization was to use our influence for procuring adequate hospitalization for the tuberculosis of our state," President Dr. J. Grusick of Grand Forks told the officers and executive committee. "This meant the advance cases, for at that time practically all cases that were recognized were of that class. We have progressed since then. We have learned to diagnose cases earlier. We have further learned that tuberculosis infection is mostly of early childhood. We now have come to believe that care of the child is all-important. Our state sanatorium was designed for adults. There is no provision made for the care of children except in connection with adults. This is in the very nature of things exceedingly undesirable. The association is of the opinion that a children's building is one of our pressing needs."

To create a fund that might be used for that purpose the association asked the seal selling agencies to donate the whole or part of their quota. Eight counties have given all, ten counties have given half and more Ford cars and trucks were produced last year than the previous year, an increase of over 50 per cent.

As a result, the Minnesota association empowered its executive committee to negotiate with the North Dakota association officials to determine whether a joint meeting could be worked out.

In spite of this tremendous increase in production, it was impossible to meet delivery requirements during the spring and summer months when orders for 350,000 Ford Cars and Trucks could not be filled.

This year winter buying for immediate delivery has been more active than ever before—and in addition 200,000 orders have already been booked through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan for spring delivery.

These facts clearly indicate that the demand during this spring and summer will be far greater than ever, and that orders should be placed immediately with Ford Dealers as a means of protection against delay in securing your Ford Car or Truck or Fordson Tractor.

there are few that have not given something, Dr. Grusick said. Accomplishments of the association during the past year, as reported by Miss Carrie Haugen, secretary, included: distribution of 50,000 pins in the child health crusade work, distribution of 90,000 chore records, sending out of tuberculosis literature, nursing service supplied Devils Lake for 10 weeks and also to Rottet and Dickey counties, maintaining an open air school, maintaining the traveling clinic and conducting the Christmas seal sale.

FOR LARGER PROFITS

To the Burleigh County farmer who is seeking to increase the profits from his farm and create a surplus of working capital, our advice is—raise hogs.

There is profit as well as pork in hogs. They will convert feed into meat economically and rapidly. They will provide the farmer with a source of ready cash, throughout the year.

Start with well bred animals, feed them right and house them right. The result will be larger profits.

BANK CLOSING EFFECT HELD EXAGGERATED

Receiver Baird Says Total of Deposits Show Situation
Not Like Others

TALKS TO ROTARIANS

Affairs of closed banks have been judged too much in the past by the number of failures or suspensions rather than from assets or liabilities involved. Capt. Baird told Rotarians today in an address upon the administration of closed banks under the law passed by the 1923 legislature.

In giving comparative and approximate figures, Capt. Baird showed that the deposits involved in closed banks when compared with some of the failures in adjoining states were really insignificant and not alarming. He told of the efforts to reduce the expenses of administration to a minimum without, however, criticizing past management of closed banks which he explained probably did the best they could until a workable plan of caring for such a diversity of interests could be worked out.

He explained the system of zoning the states. How through organization the number of men employed to direct the affairs of some 150 banks had been reduced. This system is functioning now and every effort is being made to put affairs back on a stable basis as soon as is humanly possible. Less than eighteen million of deposits were involved, he said, which in light of a few large failures in some other states was insignificant. Many of the banks involved have small footings, he explained, and that the mere number of involved institutions had distorted the real situation and as facts were becoming better known there was a tendency to judge the affairs of the involved institution from a common sense angle, declared Capt. Baird.

The batchelor "blow" sang a selection entitled: "My Old Fashioned Girl," Henry Halvorson was conductor.

It was decided to devote three minutes each week for some weeks to come to the subject of corn and its economic significance to the state. George Will gave a brief talk emphasizing the fact that Bismarck was the corn capital of North Dakota as here originated the first serious efforts in corn production in the state. Compared with many counties, it still leads in corn production. In 1922 one acre of corn to every four of wheat was planted in Burleigh county. Next week Arthur Gussner will discuss "Canned Corn."

Arthur Bolster of the January program committee presided. Several birthdays were celebrated. Vice La Rose did the honors for Otto Schimanski; Roy Logan for Ed Perry and Fred Copelin for Hal Dobler.

Attendance was 94.4 percent. Chairman Henry Duendeland reported that there were now 1,826 Rotary clubs with a membership of 98,700. It was decided to have a ladies night Feb. 20 at the McKenzie hotel. A dance will follow the program.

Guests of honor were Harvey Robinson of Medina and Capt. Ray Baird, receiver of closed banks.

Rotarian radio "bugs" were urged to tune in at 5 p. m. Washington time, Feb. 22 when Calvin Coolidge will deliver a tribute of interest to Rotary.

The February program committee will consist of A. J. Arnot and Dr. Rawlings.

JONES GOES TO ENDERLIN

Promoted to Position of Trainmaster on Soo Line

A. A. Jones, chief dispatcher on the Missouri River division of the Soo line here, has been promoted to the position of trainmaster on the main line division and will be stationed at Enderlin. He assumes his new position the first of the month.

Mr. Jones is long experienced in the railroad business and has filled various positions on the Missouri River division, including acting superintendent. His duties as trainmaster are on the division from Enderlin to Portal and include the line from Kenmare to Whitetail, Montana. August Mellon, dispatcher, has been named chief dispatcher to succeed Mr. Jones.

Piles Can Be Cured Without Surgery

An instructive book has been published by Dr. A. S. McCleary, the noted rectal specialist of Kansas City. This book tells how sufferers from piles can be quickly and easily cured without the use of knife, scissors, "hot" iron, electricity or any other cutting or burning method, without confinement to bed and no hospital bills to pay. The method has been a success for twenty-four years and in more than eight thousand cases. The book is sent postpaid free to persons afflicted with piles or other rectal troubles who clip this item and mail it with name and address to Dr. McCleary, 2542 Parkway Sanitarium, Kansas City, Mo.

YES, THE POOR COOKS WORKED OVERTIME

It's the "last long mile." And the hardest, too, for these seasoned regulars of the Third Infantry, U. S. A., from Fort Snelling, Minn. Besides their nine-pound rifles and 75-pound packs, they're weighted down with snowshoes, skis and gaiters as they plod along through the heavy snow drifts. They're training for service in the northwest.

DIVIDEND IS DECLARED

U. S. Steel Corporation Has Big Business

New York, Jan. 30.—One of the wildest stock market sessions in recent years took place this morning when thousands of buying orders appeared as the result of the declaration of an extra dividend of 50 cents on stock of the United States Steel Corporation, initial gains of active issues ranging from 1 to 6 points.

New York, Jan. 30.—Directors of the United States Steel corporation declared an extra dividend of 50 cents a share on the common stock, amounting to $2,511,512. In addition to the regular monthly quarter dividends of 11-14 per cent on the common and 13-4 per cent on the preferred, which jointly total $12,658,702.

Total earnings of the corporation for the last quarter of 1923, after deducting all operating expenses, estimated taxes and interest on bonds of subsidiary companies were $49,685,980, an increase of $2,905,300 over the preceding quarter. This exceeded all previous estimates, most of which predicted a slight decrease below the third quarter of 1923.

Considering the amount of net earnings for the last quarter, the present volume of business and unfilled orders on hand, E. H. Gary, chairman of the corporation said full justice to the stockholders required an extra dividend on the common stock and one-half of one per cent.

'U' BUILDING HELD LUXURY

Nice But State Can't Afford
It, Says Gunderson

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 30.—The new law school building at the state university is a nice thing, but the people of North Dakota cannot afford it. This statement was made by J. C. Gunderson, president of the North Dakota Taxpayers' association, in an address Monday evening before members of the Laramie Commercial club.

Taxes are bankrupting the taxpayers of the state, he declared, and something must be done. The Taxpayers' association of which Mr. Gunderson is the head recently proposed placing before the voters of the state an initiative measure providing for a general cut of 25 per cent of all taxes. The percent of the initial reduction has more recently been reduced somewhat, it is understood.

Exception to Mr. Gunderson's statement that state educational institutions should be pruned was taken by Dr. H. F. Harris of Grand Forks, district superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal church, who attended the meeting. Dr. Harris told the stand that, in view of the immigration to this country, a strong educational system is needed and that it must not be allowed to lose its present status.

HISTORICAL MUSEUM IN JAMESTOWN

Jamestown, N. D., Jan. 30.—Having been given a home in the basement of the public library, the Jamestown County Historical Society has turned this room into a museum for the housing of many articles of historical value which it has and will continue to accumulate. This will be opened to the public on Saturday afternoon, February 2nd, and it is the plan of the society to keep it open every Saturday thereafter from 2 to 5 o'clock in the afternoon.

The room, turned over to the Society by the library board, is the west room of the basement and it has been fitted out with a number of show cases and exhibit cabinets loaned by various business men of the city. These will be filled with the smaller articles, each division, according to its era of history, in a special group, and the larger articles grouped about them.

Already some very interesting exhibits are in the room, such as a large collection of battle equipment from the fields of Argonne and Verdun of the World War, souvenirs brought back from the Philippines and the Mexican frontier by the boys of Company II, relics of days when the Indian and buffalo roamed the plains, and some of the old yokes that connected that sturdy ox power

When You Catch Cold Rub on Musterole

Musterole is easy to apply and it gets in its good work right away. Often it prevents a cold from turning into "flu" or pneumonia. It does apply Musterole with the fingers. It is all the good work of grandmother's mustard plaster without the blister.

Musterole is clean, white ointment, made of oil of mustard and other home simples. It is recommended by many doctors and nurses. Try Musterole for sore throat, cold on the chest, rheumatism, lumbago, pleurisy, stiff neck, bronchitis, asthma, neuralgia, congestion, pains and aches of the back and joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet—colds of all sorts.

To Mothers: Musterole is now made in milder form for babies and small children. Ask for Children's Musterole. 35c and 65c jars and tubes; hospital size, $3.00.

($10,000.00) Ten Thousand Dollars MORE SPENT IN Bismarck in 1923

According to the latest returns, the tape measure men took $10,000.00 less out of Bismarck in 1923 which means that that much more was deposited in Bismarck Banks instead of Banks of other cities. It also means that the men who invest that money in good clothes appreciate the opportunity of helping to build up the industries of Bismarck which naturally Makes Business Better in Bismarck.

AT THE MOVIES

THE BLITZ
"Slave of Desire," at the Eltinge theatre on Thursday, is an adaptation of one of Honore de Balzac's best known novels, "The Magie Skin," and naturally has all the magnificent imaginative touches, brilliance of color and powerful human analysis for which that great author is noted.

Of primary interest to picture goers, of course, is the able cast which Gilbert E. Gable, the producer, has equipped the film. George Walsh, one of the most handsome men of the screen, plays the role of Raphael Valentin, Parisian poet and dreamer. Bessie Love is to be seen in one of the finest roles of her career as Pauline, the heroine. Carmel Myers makes a violent entry into the ranks of screen vamps by her scintillant acting as the alluring Countess Fedora.

Confined To Hospital
Mrs. V. A. MacGillivray is still confined to the Bismarck hospital where she is receiving treatment. Mr. MacGillivray and son Vernon are in the city to be with Mrs. MacGillivray.

Chosen To Debate
Miss Louise Huber of this city has been selected as a member of the Woman's Debating Team of the Jamestown College. The team is scheduled to meet a team from Aberdeen, in the near future.

AGGIES LOSE
Omaha, Neb., Jan. 30.—Creighton university basketball tossers continued to sweep over all opposition in the North Central conference and defeated North Dakota Agricultural college here last night, 34 to 15.

The contest was clean throughout and Bison players were unanimous in declaring Creighton the best they have met this year. Few fouls were called on either team by Referee Hargiss.

NO DIVORCE IN GARTZ
Stettin, Jan. 30.—The little town of Gartz, near here, claims the record in Germany for married couples who have passed their golden wedding anniversaries. Within the last few months the sixtieth anniversaries of 21 couples of Gartz have been celebrated by the principals and most of the 5,000 population.

There has not been a divorce in Gartz, it is said, within the recollection of the oldest inhabitant.

BIG PROGRAM OF BUILDING IS ADVOCATED

More Space Is Needed to House Army of U. S. Employees in Washington

Washington, Jan. 30.—Office space required by the government's executive departments in Washington aggregates 13,474,929 square feet, or almost 311 acres, distributed in more than 200 buildings. In addition, the Capitol and the Senate and House of Representatives office buildings, used by Congress total about 2,000,000 square feet.

In making the report of the Public Buildings Commission to the Senate, Senator Smith recently urged adoption of a program to expend $50,000,000 over a period of ten years for public buildings in Washington which, he said, would dispense with the need for renting buildings here and provide for the needs of the government for the next 20 years.

The government now pays almost $600,000 a year for buildings rented in Washington, paying for ordinary space at the rate of $1.50 a square foot. The Interstate Commerce Commission occupies an entire building on which $72,058 a year rental is paid for 1,802,272 square feet. The Department of Commerce occupies another building for which $65,000 a year rental is paid. The Department of Justice pays $75,000 a year for an entire building containing 110,000 square feet of office space whose owners each month implore the government to vacate, stating they have an opportunity to rent the building for $225,000 a year. The government's contract has expired, but the owners have not begun legal proceedings to oust the Department of Justice.

The Navy Department building contains more space than any other in Washington with a total of 923,916 square feet, and it houses 2,632 employees. The building of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, with 184,920 square feet, houses 4,960 employees. Rental of all office space occupied by the government at Washington at the rate now being paid for ordinary office space in the city, would mean a year rent bill of approximately $25,000,000.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE MADE

Kennmare, N. D., Jan. 30.—Othar Jensen, former bank cashier of Kennmare, N. D., is under arrest in California charged with embezzlement of approximately $20,000 from a bank in that state, according to information reaching Kennmare. The San Diego, California, Union, a newspaper, says:

Othar H. Hendricks and his wife, Ethel, cashier and assistant cashier, respectively, of the First National bank of Hollister, Cal., near here, were arrested by federal agents, charged with complicity in

CLUBWOMEN'S HEAD TELLS OF BOARD MEETING

Mrs. L. N. Cary of Mandan Gives Interesting Description of Eastern Trip

Much is accomplished. Mrs. L. N. Cary of Mandan, president of the North Dakota Federated Club in her recent trip to Washington, D. C., as a delegate to the National Conference and as a member of the National Board of Directors of the Women's Federated Clubs, describes the session attended, as having been most educational and inspirational, to those interested in the line of women's recent achievements.

Delegates from the west arrived in Washington in time to begin the week's activities on Monday morning and were accordingly whirled off as guests of the Women's Joint Congressional Committee at their headquarters. Here they learned of some of the activity of this committee with regard to action taken on legislative measures reported out of Congress from time to time. One of the committee are town of Alexandria, La., where the Women's League of Women Voters, Miss Abbott, eminent child welfare worker; all other members of this committee being equally well known for some one special line of work, in which the clubs and women of the nation have interested themselves.

On Monday afternoon delegates visited the United States Capitol in session at the National Capitol. Here they witnessed the workings of the lobbying committees, etc. At the time of the visit, a representative from Maryland was ridiculing the passage of the Volstead act. In their visit to the Senate, they heard Senator Lodge and several other prominent senators address the Senate.

NEW FILM WON'T SHRINK

London, Jan. 30.—Hundreds of thousands of feet of cinema film and countless phonograph records are being carefully preserved by museum authorities in London so that future generations may see how things were done in this age, and hear what prominent British statesmen had to say of present day problems.

One difficulty in the way of this undertaking of interpreting today to tomorrow has been found in the fact that cinema films contract and deteriorate with age, but a British firm claims to have invented a film that will not shrink and that is not inflammable.

EDITORS SEEK GOVERNORSHIP

Indianapolis, Jan. 30.—Two newspaper publishers of the same city, are seeking the nomination of their respective parties for governor of Indiana. They are Edward C. Toner, publisher of The Anderson Herald, who is a candidate for the republican nomination, and Dale J. Crittenden, publisher of The Anderson Herald, who has announced himself as a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor.

Both are graduates of Indiana University—Crittendenberger in the class of 1878 and Toner in the class of 1895. They will enter in the state primary to be held in Indiana on May 6.

INSTITUTE OF ECONOMICS ESTABLISHED AT LEIPZIG

Leipzig, Jan. 30.—An institute of world economics has been established here, under the direction of Dr. Ernst Schuler, head of the University of Leipzig. Economists from all over the world will be invited to lecture, especially on the economic effects of the war on the various nations.

SELLS PLANT

Glen Ullin, N. D., Jan. 30.—The local electric light plant has been sold to C. M. Cleveland, of Washburn, N. D., who has already taken charge of same. The local plant was put in in 1912 by Albert Hannes and has been known as the Hannes Light and Power Co.

Mr. Cleveland, who comes here from Washburn, had years of experience in the business and for the past four years he has been in charge of the electric and power plant at Washburn.

MAKES PEOPLE SLIM

Many of your friends think that you are too fat. You too realize it. But why in all common sense, don't you get rid of that extra 10, 20, 30 or more pounds? Feel comfortable and more like a human being again. I am a physician licensed by the State of New York. I have treated men and women overburdened with excess weight. I have reduced as much as a pound a day. I prescribe my patients such treatment as will, in my opinion, produce not only the loss of weight, but an improvement in their health. Don't take my word for it. Let me send you free my trial treatment and convince yourself. Personal and confidential. Write me and you are treated exactly as if you were in my office.

FREE TRIAL Treatment AND INTERESTING BOOKLET

I have successfully treated thousands of patients for fat reduction. Without Change of Diet or Unnecessary Exercise. Below are a few extracts of letters from grateful patients which bear out my statements.

Lost 75 Pounds. Mrs. O. Williams writes: "I have lost 75 pounds as a result of your treatment. I feel better in every way. I can now breathe freely and am no longer tired or short of breath. I thank you very much for what you have done for me."

Lost 70 Pounds. Mrs. S. Smith writes: "I have lost 70 pounds as a result of taking your treatment. I feel better in every way. I can now breathe freely and am no longer tired or short of breath. I thank you very much for what you have done for me."

Lost 48 Pounds. Mrs. S. Jones writes: "I have lost 48 pounds as a result of your treatment. I feel better in every way. I can now breathe freely and am no longer tired or short of breath. I thank you very much for what you have done for me."

ROYAL THEATER IS REOPENED

Washington, Jan. 30.—The former royal theater which was destroyed by fire last summer has been rebuilt in record time with funds gathered from all parts of the world and reopened with a performance of "La Boheme."

The Prussian government, the municipality of Wiesbaden and friends of the theatre who have enjoyed the performances while living in this resort city, all joined in the campaign for funds to restore the historic theatre. Many Americans contributed to the fund.

LIGNITE MINES OPENED AGAIN

Burlington, N. D., Jan. 30.—The Burlington lignite coal mines, from which miners walked out several weeks ago as a protest against a 10 per cent cut in wages, are again working.

Several strike leaders have not gone back to work and a few of them have drifted to other places, but their jobs have been taken by others.

It is said that some of the miners, despite the wage cut, are making upwards of $10 a day. Before the cut, one miner made $408 in one month, $406 in another month, and $396 in another month.

CHILDREN IN GERMANY SUFFER

Berlin, Jan. 30. A canvass by teachers of six elementary schools for boys and six for girls in Berlin showed that in spite of the relief work which is being carried on by various organizations there are many hungry children in the schools.

The canvass showed that 16.5 per cent of the children had no breakfast before going to school, and on the preceding day only 31.19 per cent had had only one warm meal. The clothing and shoes of 15.6 per cent were wholly inadequate for cold weather.

BAR SUNDAY ENTERTAINMENT

London, Jan. 30. Because various religious bodies united in protest, the British Empire Exposition, to be held in the spring, will close its doors every Sunday. The argument advanced was that the exposition will be largely an entertainment.

Gate receipts will be seriously affected, as Sundays were counted on to draw particularly large crowds.

PIMPPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets.

A pimply face will not embarrass you longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Glance the blood, loosen and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.

BIG PROGRAM OF BUILDING IS ADVOCATED

More Space Is Needed to House Army of U. S. Employees in Washington

Washington, Jan. 30.—Office space required by the government's executive departments in Washington aggregates 13,674,929 square feet, or almost 314 acres, distributed in more than 200 buildings. In addition, the capital and the Senate and House of Representatives office buildings used by Congress total about 2,000,000 square feet.

In making the report of the Public Buildings Commission to the Senate, Senator Smoot recently urged adoption of a program to expend $50,000,000 over a period of ten years for public buildings in Washington which, he said, would dispense with the need for renting buildings here and provide for the needs of the government for the next 20 years.

The government now pays almost $600,000 a year for buildings rented in Washington, paying for ordinary space at the rate of $1.50 a square foot. The Interstate Commerce Commission occupies an entire building on which $72,058 a year rental is paid for 186,272 square feet. The Department of Commerce occupies another containing 182,054 square feet of space for which $65,500 year rental is paid. The Department of Justice pays $75,000 a year for an entire building containing 110,070 square feet of office space whose owners each month implore the government to vacate, stating they have an opportunity to rent the building for $225,000 a year. The government's contract has expired, but the owners have not begun legal proceedings to oust the Department of Justice.

The Navy Department building contains more space than any other in Washington, with a total of 923,316 square feet, and it houses 2,632 employees. The building, 2 the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, with 484,320 square feet, houses 4,969 employees. Rental of all office space occupied by the government at Washington at the present time being paid for ordinary office space in the city, would mean a year rent bill of approximately $25,000,000.

EMBEZZLEMENT CHARGE MADE

Kenmare, N. D., Jan. 30.—Othar Johnson, former bank of Kenmare, N. D., is under arrest in California charged with embezzlement of approximately $20,000 from a bank in that state, according to information reaching Kenmare. The San Diego-California Union, a newspaper, says:

"R. B. Hendricks and his wife, Ethel, cashier and assistant cashier, respectively, of the First National bank of Bellflower, Cal., near here, were arrested by federal agents, charged with complicity in the embezzlement of approximately $30,000 from the First National bank of Bellflower, which was disclosed several weeks ago.

"Othar Johnson, former president of the Watts bank, alleged by government officials to have taken the money and placed it from time to time in the Bellflower bank, was released from custody under $25,000 bonds."

PITY OLD JEFF! HE'S DOWN TO LAST 100 ACRES

Los Angeles, Calif., Jan. 30.—Recently the report got around that Jim Jeffries, former heavyweight champion of the world, was "broke."

This is not wholly true. Judged by modern financial standards in the heavyweights division Jeff may be comparatively "broke," but he is not exactly flat.

Jeff has 100 acres of good land out here in his wife's name and the land has an appraised value of $25,000 in acre.

Messrs. Dempsey and Leonard would probably turn up their regal brows in contempt at these paltry holdings but old Jeff, simple soul, seems perfectly satisfied.

TO RID SHIPS OF RATS

Havre, Jan. 30.—The danger of fumigating the holds of ships to exterminate rats without first clearing the whole ship of passengers and crew has been brought strongly to the attention of the French government as a result of the recent suffocation of several members of the crew of the Caroline.

The report to the government points out that, despite all possible precautions, it is impossible effectively to fumigate one hold without allowing the deadly fumes to seep through to other parts of the ship. Stricter regulations for "de-ratting" ships are expected soon to be put into effect.

ABOLISH TABLE D'HOTE

Geneva, Jan. 30.—The abolition of table d'hôte service in all hotels throughout Switzerland and other countries is advocated in an anonymous letter published in the current issue of the Swiss Hotel Review.

"It is not fair or just," writes the contributor, "to impose upon guests the left-overs of a dish that has passed around several times from table to table, especially mutilated fish." The writer also declares guests do not want to be ordered to the table for a meal "at a certain hour by the clock."

CLUBWOMEN'S HEAD TELLS OF BOARD MEETING

Mrs. L. N. Cary of Mandan Gives Interesting Description of Eastern Trip

MUCH IS ACCOMPLISHED

Mrs. L. N. Cary of Mandan, president of the North Dakota Federation of Women's Clubs, describes the session attended, as having been most educational and inspirational, to those interested in the line of women's recent achievements.

Delegates from the west arrived in Washington in time to begin the week's activities on Monday morning and were accordingly whirled off as guests of the Women's Joint Congressional Committee at their headquarters. Here they learned of some of the activity of this committee, with regard to action taken on legislative measures reported out by Congress from time to time. On this committee, are such eminent women as Mary Park Ward, head of League of Women Voters; Miss Abbott, eminent child welfare worker; all other members of this committee being equally well known for some one special line of work, in which the clubs and women of the nation have interested themselves.

On Monday afternoon delegates visited the United States Congress in session at the National Capitol. Here they witnessed the workings of the lobbying committees, etc. At the time of the visit a representative from Maryland was ridiculing the passage of the Volstead act. In their visit to the Senate, they heard Senator Lodge and several other prominent senators address the Senate.

Monday evening the board members were guests at a dinner, in the little town of Alexandria, across the Potomac river, quite historic for George Washington frequently visited there while in Washington. Here they enjoyed all the hospitality and famous Southern cooking for which the South has long been noted. Among the after dinner speakers at this dinner was Wm. J. Burns, the detective. Burns' subject was "The Dangers of Radicalism." During the course of his talk, he said he had been blamed for "seeing red," but he warned those present to be alive to the situation facing the American nation today, for it was indeed grave.

Official Board Meeting

On Tuesday the Official Board of the Federation met. An international representative of the Woman's club of Paris was present and made a plea for the strengthening of mutual relations between the two nations. By means of a number of interesting pictures, shown on the screen, she related the efforts France was making to rebuild the old historic cities destroyed during the World War. Resolutions were afterwards adopted declaring the Federation's stance on peace, after having been offered by Mrs. Penny, baker in the course of a talk on "Americanization."

A replica of John Howard Paine's "Home Sweet Home," whose centennial celebration was recently observed, was presented by the National Federation of Women's Clubs to the Girl Scouts of America, Mrs. Herbert Hoover, national head of the Scouts with a fitting address accepted the gift on behalf of the Scouts.

The women's sensations experienced on attending this formal reception, Mrs. Coolidge proved a charming hostess, very human, lovely and gracious. At the conclusion of the reception a photograph was made of Mrs. Coolidge with the board members in front of the White House.

This same afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt Jr. received the board members at a reception at their home. Theodore Jr. was found to resemble his father very much in mannerisms of speech and laughter, but of much more slender stature. Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth was present at this reception as was Mrs. Denby, wife of Secretary Denby, of the Navy. In Mrs. Cary's conversation with Roosevelt, she told of the work being done in this state to perpetuate the memory of his illustrious father, who was once a citizen of the state.

Thursday noon, President Coolidge received the delegation in his private office, and during the reception, contrary to his custom, he shook hands with each guest and granted each a genial smile. In the course of a few well chosen remarks he said: "The women of the Federation represent the finest women of the Nation."

Thursday evening a party was given at the National Federation home in Washington and twenty distinguished women from offices in Washington were guests. Among those present was the only woman who has ever held the position as Assistant Attorney General of the United States. Other invited guests were equally noted for their attainments.

Illiteracy Conference Convened

On Friday the Illiteracy Conference was held in the Department of the Interior. This was a conference called by four leading organizations of the United States working along the line of Americanization.

Americanization was the point stressed and a representative from the General Electric Co. of America told of a program, and efforts being made to Americanize their employees, many of whom are highly educated foreigners and splendid workmen, by schools conducted at 4 p. m. and in the evening by more than forty volunteer teachers. Citizenship is taught in these schools.

Friday evening Glen Frank, editor of the Century Magazine, gave a lecture on "Tendency of the Day." Mrs. Cary stated that to have been privileged to hear this lecture would have been well worth the trip to Washington. He stressed the point that out of this seething unrest and confusion of humanity today, the world was "bound to emerge to a new birth—a new renaissance."

On her return trip Mrs. Cary visited the giant Westinghouse Electric Broadcasting Station at Pittsburgh and while there became an agent radio fan. She left these conferences with this impression in mind:

"We are living in a wonderful age of the world's history and should live our best, entertain our highest emotions each day, for we are nearing the time of a great and better day, and pass this way but once, and opportunity for doing is now."

FREEDOM OF AIR DEFENDED BY MINN. JUDGE

St. Paul, Jan. 30.—The old common-law maxim, "whose the soil is, it is from the heavens to the depths of the earth," was overruled in a decision by Judge John C. Michael, of the District Court of Minnesota, in a suit for damages brought by a local property owner after an airplane made a forced landing on his property. The plaintiff sought also to enjoin the defendant from flying over his property regardless of the attitude of such flights.

"The upper air is a natural heritage common to all of the people and the land, and ought not to be hampered by an ancient artificial maxim of law," the judge declared. The decision is regarded as of great importance, according to L. K. Bell, secretary of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce, which represents some 1,200 commercial aircraft operators in the United States. It may be interpreted as a specific declaration of the freedom of the air whereby without being guilty of trespass, he said.

"Conduction of air planes is not feasible because aircraft can not adhere strictly to a defined course," Judge Michael decision said. "The air, so far as it has any direct relation to the comfort and enjoyment of the land, is property to the land, but to content that it is part of the reality, as affecting the right of air navigation, is only a legal fiction, devoid of substantial merit."

Judge Michael said that while there was some danger to persons and property from aircraft, accidents were infrequent and "this hazard is infinitely less than encountered in every walk of life from various other causes."

While granting the plaintiff damages, Judge Michael, in refusing the injunction said that modern progress and great public interest should not be blocked by unnecessary legal refinements.

MANCHURIA TO HAVE ELECTRICITY

Seoul, Korea, Jan. 30.—A scheme to electrify the whole of south Manchuria is under contemplation of the South Manchurian Railway Company, which administers a great stretch of very rich territory in what is known as the railway zone. Engineers investigating the source of the Yalu river have discovered 100 miles north of Antung a drop in the river from which, it is estimated, 100,000 kilowatts of electricity can be generated.

The intention is not only to supply light, heat and power, including that to electrify the railway itself, but to use the power in the development of agriculture.

ROYAL THEATER IS REOPENED

Wiesbaden, Jan. 30.—The former royal theater which was destroyed by fire last summer has been rebuilt in record time with funds gathered from all parts of the world and reopened with a performance of "Lothengrin."

The Prussian government, the municipality of Wiesbaden and friends of the theatre who have enjoyed the performances while living in this resort city, all joined in the campaign for funds to restore the historic theatre. Many Americans contributed to the fund.

LIGNITE MINES OPENED AGAIN

Burlington, N. D., Jan. 30.—The Burlington lignite coal mines, from which miners walked out several weeks ago as a protest against a 10 per cent cut in wages, are again working.

Several strike leaders have not gone back to work and a few of them have drifted to other places, but their jobs have been taken by others.

It is said that some of the miners, despite the wage cut, are making upwards of $10 a day. Before the cut, one miner made $48 in one month, $406 in another month, and $396 in another month.

CHILDREN IN GERMANY SUFFER

Berlin, Jan. 30.—A canvass by teachers of six elementary schools for boys and six for girls in Berlin showed that in spite of the relief work which is being carried on by various organizations, many hungry children in the schools.

The canvass showed that 16.5 per cent of the children had had no breakfast before going to school, and on the preceding day only 31.19 per cent had had only one warm meal. The clothing and shoes of 15.6 per cent were wholly inadequate for cold weather.

BAR SUNDAY ENTERTAINMENT

London, Jan. 30.—Because various religious bodies united in protest, the British Empire Exposition, to be held in the spring, will close its doors every Sunday. The argument advanced was that the exposition will be largely an entertainment.

Gate receipts will be seriously affected, as Sundays were counted on to draw particularly large crowds.

PIMPY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER

CONSIDER BURLEIGH COUNTY

The stability shown in Burleigh county and in Bismarck, as evidenced by financial strength of big institutions, increased building in the city, good tax payments, lack of unemployment has been the subject of remarks by many visitors to Bismarck last fall and this winter. The situation is, however, not surprising if the factors are considered.

Burleigh county was awarded second place in the state corn show. Her fine corn and known facts as to the acreage, are sufficient to point out the tremendous value of the corn crop to the county.

Fair crops in many products, increased sales of milk, turkeys, hogs, livestock, plenitude of feed—all these are factors which have added to the stability of the county. It is generally agreed that agriculture is not prosperous generally—it would be foolish to contend that it is—but the concrete evidence in Burleigh county, at least, is that conditions are not as bad as many have painted.

The $100,000 rip-rapping job on the river, the city's waterworks plant, the heavy building—these have absorbed much surplus labor and have steadied the situation.

Also Burleigh county people generally got down to bed-rock two years ago. The after-the-war inflation ceased here and elsewhere in western North Dakota before it did in many sections. The peak of her troubles was passed long ago. Corn, hogs, cattle, dairying, poultry, with a rotation of crops which includes grain raising. The same factors which have stabilized Burleigh county have stabilized other counties in western North Dakota which are a part of Bismarck's trade territory. Expansion of the state government has brought an increased payroll to the city. More coal was mined in Burleigh county last year than in any other county of the state.

The booster spirit ought never to die. It ought to be uppermost in Burleigh county at a time when the opportunity for great development lies just ahead. Her fertile acres, where as fine corn can be grown as anywhere in the United States, her broad pastures in which as fine hogs, cattle and turkeys can be produced as any section, will within the next few years be the means of attracting many farmers now struggling in states to the south under the burden of too high priced land. Land values will rise. And many who now believe they are burdened by holding too much land may within the next few years profit immensely.

WOMAN'S LURE

What qualities of womanhood are most attractive to men? A reader, asking this question, says in his letter to the editor: "I gather, from movies and fiction and news stories, that the most admirable traits or qualities in a man are bravery, brains, honor and loyalty. Please write about the most desirable characteristics of a woman. What must she possess to be an ideal sweetheart and wife?"

Every woman gives a lot of thought to this problem. The great philosophers have pondered it.
Pooling authorities: The most attractive and desirable qualities in a woman are modesty, love, beauty, loyalty, poise, reserve, companionship, personal magnetism—and mystery.

Men, courting women for their future wives and mothers of their children, instinctively seek, first of all, love, modesty, companionship and loyalty.

Beauty is the biological lure. But isn't its influence usually over-rated? Consider the multitude of men who are quite contented to pass up the beauties and marry women only moderately attractive.

Of course, for the homeliest woman in the world, there's some man who'll consider her the most attractive. Yes, love is blind.

Handsome men frequently marry homely women. Brilliant men often marry women with very little brains. Practical women marry impractical men. Beauties mate with commonplace males. Tall women with short husbands. Tall husbands with short wives. Good marriages bad. Small wonder, love baffles the philosophers.

In the last analysis, all this contradictory state of affairs is merely nature evening things up—restoring the balance between the sexes—preventing the race from veering too far from the normal or average appearances, mentality, emotion and character.

FEW GET EDUCATION

We talk about this, being a great country for education. But 561 out of every 1000 boys and girls who enter high school quit and go to work before they graduate. These are average figures for the whole country.

Considering the prosperity of our nation, every child should have a high school education. Only a minority of them get it. And only about half who enter high school graduate. This is the deplorable thing to remember when statistics experts talk about big production of steel or autos. Brains, our greatest form of national wealth, should be our chief investment for the future. Unfortunately not.

They talk a lot about Muscle Shoals and similar projects. Too bad, of course, that these natural resources are not developed. But our greatest national resource is BRAINS OF THE YOUNG.

Many a boy, doomed to child labor under our present system, might become an Edison or a Gary if enabled to develop his brain.

Brain and brawn are the ONLY forms of national wealth, in the long run. Emotion—heart and character—is a separate thing. It has to do with happiness. Uncle Sam neglects his best investment, child brain.

FILLING THE RANKS OF TEACHERS

There are in New York state 60,000 teachers. Their average tenure is seven years; consequently 8,000 new teachers must be enlisted annually to keep the ranks full. The number of school children is increasing rapidly. Every year 1,500 teachers are needed to take care of the increase. To provide the 9,500 new teachers needed, 10,000 high school graduates must enter in the normal schools. The high schools graduate about 24,000 a year, of whom 3,000 have training themselves for commercial pursuits. Of the remaining 14,400 more than 4,000 go on to college leaving less than the requisite 10,000 for the normal schools. Every one knows, however, that nothing like 100 per cent of this remainder will enroll in the normal schools. We should doubt that the percentage would run above 50 or 60.—The New Republic.

THE INVESTIGATION MANIA

Fear that opposition to an investigation will be construed as an admission that there is need for one, is a bit of psychology that the promoters of those congressional probes thoroughly understand. As a consequence, congress is said to be threatened with no less than fifty investigations covering practically every bureau and commission of the government.

Everybody knows that in the majority cases no useful end is attained. The government pigeon holes are cluttered with reports which have consumed weeks and months of time at a cost to the public all out of proportion to the benefit accruing.

Too much investigation may be as unprofitable as too much legislation, more especially as the one provokes the other.—Lowell Evening Ledger.

THE ANNAPOLIS CADETS

Secretary Denby has issued an order to the superintendent at Annapolis to the effect that any midshipman found guilty of being under the influence of intoxicating liquor or having liquor in his possession within the limits of the academy will be subject to dismissal from the academy and from the naval force.

It is lamentable that such an order should be necessary, but it is justifiable and should be enforced. Scandalous cases of drinking among the cadets at the Naval Academy have circulated for some time. The secretary now proposes to enforce the extreme penalty upon all those young men who, engaged in training for naval officer ship, violate the law which they are sworn to obey and maintain.

Famous Editor Solves Hard Problem

Lately our trousers have been bagging so at the knees we found taking them off at night becoming very difficult.

Three weeks ago we could remove them by imagining they were boots, and tugging accordingly.

Two weeks ago we were forced to start using a bootjack.

One week ago the bootjack broke, and then, by nothing less than inspiration, we remembered a "home help" we wrote last summer. We put the trousers on backward.

After wearing the trousers backward three days the bag at the knees was gone. Now we plan to alternate, one day the trousers will be on right and the next day on backward.

If your trousers suffer from knee-bagging try this plan.

LETTER FROM RUTH ELLINGTON TO LESLIE PRESCOTT

My dear Leslie:
I have certainly gotten in bad with Jack now if I never did before. You see I made the deal with the black-mailing gentleman and bought the pearl for four thousand dollars, which I think was a pretty good stroke of business.

Not knowing what to do with it and the remainder of the money—for I did not dare deposit it in my account—I decided I would go and put it in the safety deposit vault in your bedroom.

I arrived at your place about five o'clock in the afternoon and was just opening your vault when, without any warning, Jack came in. Naturally he looked surprised and very suspicious.

I informed him that I had made some stupendous sales and I did not want to deposit the money in the bank right away and that I was sure you would not mind my using the vault for a night or two.

He jumped at the conclusion that Harry was sending me money and that I did not want to deposit it, on account of Harry's creditors who might attach it. He said immediately, "You needn't feel at all alarmed but the interests of the general public."

In a rather exceptional way, this message is directed to the public mind as well as to the collective mind of Congress. It is vivid in outline, but it does not undertake to fill in details. The "blue prints," so to speak, are left to Congress and interested private enterprises.—Minneapolis Tribune.

MANDAN NEWS

OTTO BAUER OF THE BINGENHEIMER Mercantile company has returned from Dickinson where he had been a delegate from the Mandan Rotary club of which he is president, to present to the Dickinson Rotarians the key to the City of St. Paul which is being passed from club to club in this state.

"Dickinson Rotarians have gotten squarely behind the proposition that the future of the Missouri Slope lies in diversification of farming operations," said Mr. Bauer. "The Dickinson Rotary club has announced its intention of giving fifteen prizes to the boys between 16 and 19 years of age who exhibit the finest samples of corn raised on a two-acre field. Each entry must plant and care for at least two acres of corn but is not limited to that small acreage."

OPPORTUNITY SCHOOLS
"Opportunity Schools" for those who have not had the advantage of completing a common school education, or for the foreign born who desire to learn the English language will be conducted in St. Paul during a period of six weeks commencing February 4 and continuing until March 14, according to an announcement made by County Superintendent of Schools H. K. Jensen.

Opportunity will be afforded any who desire to take advantage of these night schools, which are to be established for the purposes; first, to teach those who desire to learn to read and write; second, for those older boys and girls who did not complete the eighth grade and who have passed the school age or have attained their majority; third, those seeking to pass the naturalization tests.

TEACHER KILLED
Mrs. Norman O. Henchel, formerly a teacher in the Mandan high school, was killed a short time ago in Los Angeles in an automobile accident, according to word just received here by former friends.

Mrs. Henchel, formerly Miss Georgia Brandenberg, was the first teacher in physical training of the high school and was married here to Norman Henchel formerly employed at the Northern Great Plains Experimental station.

She taught here two terms during 1918 and 1919.

ELECT OFFICERS
At a meeting of the farmers in the Judson community Friday, Jan. 25, the following officers were elected: F. E. Munby, president; Paul Detman, vice-president; Carl Weber, secretary-treasurer for a new Judson Community Club.

The topic of discussion was corn and silos.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS
BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"You'll guess this riddle first crack out of the box," said the Riddle Lady. "But we have had so many hard ones I thought this would be nice for a change. This isn't a summer riddle or a winter riddle. It's a fair weather riddle, though, for unless it's reasonably fine weather you can't see the thing the riddle is about. Listen now everybody, Nancy and Nick, come up close beside me where you can hear:

"Twinkle, twinkle, little light, High above the world at night, Singing to the silver moon, A magic tune.

"You are just a tiny spark, Hanging up there in the dark, Like a cinder from the sun, When the day is done.

"You play peep-show with the clouds, That chase each other by in crowds, Clutching with your tiny fingers, One that lingers.

"All your sisters, then, and cousins, Come a crowding out by dozens, Just to see what makes you merry! Jolly fairy!

"As they wink and blink and twinkle, All the sky looks like a sprinkle Of white sugar on a cake, That fairies bake.

"Is the Moon Man your big brother? Or is Lady Moon your mother? Does she keep you in all day, And make you play?

"I have seen you run a scotching, Clear across the sky a shooting, Who brings you home, I'd like to know, When you go?

"Do Uncle Mars and Auntie Venus Say 'We'll get him home between us!'

And lead you 'long the Milky Way, When it's day?"

"It's a start!" cried everybody. "Well, well, well!" laughed the Riddle Lady. "I should say you did guess it."

But just then a new voice spoke up. It was the Man in the Moon who had tumbled down and was about to ask his way to Norwich.

"That's a very nice riddle," he declared. "But some day when I have more time I'll come and tell you all about stars and why they run off sometimes and everything like that. And I'll tell you all about the Milky Way, too, for you know it really isn't made of milk at all. But I must not stay. I really must get back to the Moon. There won't be anybody there to run it tonight if I don't get back. And it's likely to run off its track and wreck a thousand little stars."

Mother Goose spoke up then. "No need for that," she said. "I'll take you back on my magic broom."

"Better still!" put in Daddy Gander. "I'll take you on my magic dustpan and the Twins can go along."

DEBATING TEAM ENTERTAINS

Following the debate held in the High School Auditorium last evening, the members of the Bismarck team entertained the members of the Steele team, their coach, superintendent, the judges and chairman at an informal gathering in the Domestic Science room of the school building. Miss Morris, assisted by one of her cooking classes served a delightful three-course supper. The centerpiece was a reproduction of the St. Lawrence River and the Great Lakes with miniature ships sailing upon them. The place cards, nut baskets and menus were carried out in a red and white color scheme. Following the supper informal talks were given by George Knowles, Miss Dittmer, and L. F. Crawford. Covers were laid for thirty and the out-of-town guests were: Supt. Torvold of Steele; Miss Florence Dittmer; Miss Evelyn Stocks, Forrest Carlson, Clarence Dahlquist, all of Steele and David Lingren, principal of the Mandan schools.

ADDRESS COMMUNITY COUNCIL

Dr. Loaisa Boutelle has been secured to address the Woman's Community Council, which meets Saturday afternoon at 3:30 in the West Room at the Masonic Temple. Dr. Boutelle will be remembered as having helped in the very successful clinic held in this city last spring when so many children were examined during Child Welfare week. Dr. Boutelle is in charge of the work created by the passage of the Sheppard-Towner Act in which the women and children of the rural districts of the state are given the advantage of Dr. Boutelle's consultation and services free of charge. It is of this work that the doctor will speak next Saturday. Every mother of the city and every woman interested in child welfare work is asked to be present and hear Dr. Boutelle.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE PARTY

Fourteen little girl friends were entertained at a surprise party for Miss Inez Melnhover, at her home 322 Seventh St. yesterday afternoon, the occasion being Miss Inez's fourteenth birthday. Games were enjoyed during the afternoon and as a fitting close Mrs. Melnhover served a delicious luncheon with a beautiful cake iced in white and fourteen lighted candles decorating it, serving as an effective centerpiece. The color scheme carried out was one of yellow and white. Many pretty gifts were given the honor guest to help remind her of the day.

ENTERTAINS AT KITCHEN SHOWER

Miss Mary Bucholz was hostess last evening to twenty-six guests at a kitchen shower given for Miss Mary Anderson at the Business and Professional Women's club rooms. Guests made savoring bags for the honor guest in the evening and a mock wedding was a feature of the entertainment for the evening. A dainty luncheon was served at 11 o'clock and Miss Anderson received a number of useful, pretty and practical gifts. Miss Anderson will be a bride of early February.

SON WEDS IN EAST

Douglas Galloway, son of F. E. Galloway of this city, who has sprung to prominence on the stage since leaving the city less than three years ago, was married to his dancing partner, Miss Gudrum Jonassen, in Hartford, Conn., according to an announcement received by the father. Both are with "Little Nellie Kelly," a George M. Cohan musical production. Galloway does a whirlwind dance and Miss Jonassen a fan dance.

R. C. BRIDGE CLUB ENTERTAINED

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Knudson delightfully entertained the members of the R. C. Bridge club Saturday evening at their home. Two tables of bridge were played during the evening after which a dainty two-course luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. Peck members of the club were unable to be present and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Haskins were guests of the club. Honors went to Mr. C. A. Haskins and Mrs. Frank Brasie.

TUESDAY BRIDGE ENTERTAINED

Mrs. Overt Olson was hostess to members of the Tuesday Bridge Club yesterday afternoon at her home, 206 W. Thayer Street. Members of the club enjoyed the game during the afternoon and Mrs. O. Lundquist was found to hold high score and at the conclusion of the game, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

VISITS DAUGHTER

Mrs. Wylie Neilson of Valley City is visiting with her daughter Miss Minnie J. Neilson at her home in the Thompson Apartments.

CURRENT EVENTS CLUB MEET

The Current Events Club is being entertained this afternoon at a one o'clock pot luck luncheon at the home of Mrs. J. A. Larson. The occasion will be the meeting of the club.

To Whiten Skin With Lemon

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug-gist will supply for you. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quart of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

castion will be a very jolly affair and marks the mid year change of officers of the club. Mrs. Overt Olson retires from the presidency in favor of Mrs. E. A. Thorberg.

GIRLS RESERVES MEETING

The Girl Reserves of the First Presbyterian church enjoyed a very interesting program Monday evening. Chairman Helen Crawford of the program committee and eight of the older girls presented a short musical-dramatization entitled "Hanging Out My Sign". A duet by Helen Crawford and Melba Whitmore was well rendered. Mrs. H. L. Wheeler, in costume, gave a Japanese Girl's Valedictorian address. A very happy evening was spent at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Whitmore, 714 Second Street last week when the older girls of the Girl Reserves entertained the Great Bears and the Hi Y leaders.

ENTERTAINS FOR HUSBAND

Mrs. R. E. Potter entertained four tables of whist at a surprise birthday party for her husband, Saturday evening. After a social hour during which Mr. Potter received gifts and congratulations and well wishes, Whist was enjoyed until a late hour after which the hostess served a delicious luncheon. Mr. and Mrs. W. Mills received the prizes for high score.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

Editors Note—Following is a letter written in response to the request of nine Senators that people of the Northwest inform them of their desires regarding farm legislation.

Bismarck, N. D.
January 30, 1924.

Hon. Lynn J. Frazier,
U. S. Senate,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:—
Replying to the message sent out by nine Senators asking for personal opinions of Farmers of the North West, regarding a bill to be passed by the present session of Congress, for relief of North West Farmers and Wheat Growers.

In writing my personal experience, we want a bill or law passed that will protect the price of wheat or grain, a price that will insure a reasonable margin above the cost of production. We have been selling our wheat for the last ten years or more below the cost of production because of a manipulated market. We do not want to borrow money—we are sick of borrowing. Loaning and bonding, high taxes and interest is bleeding the life from the farmers and business men of the northwest. All we want is a reasonable price for the wheat and grain and we will get along and pay our debts. The Norris-Sinclair bill seems to be the one that comes nearest to the needs of the wheat and grain producers.

My business and experience brings me into daily contact with the farmers and business men of the northwest and especially North Dakota. They stand as a unit for a price upon farm products that will insure a profit rather than a loss. A law enacted that will wipe out the speculation and price fixing upon wheat and other food cereals. Give the farmers of the Northwest a chance to live and they will not ask for loans of money. Otherwise they will leave the farms to seek other ways to support their families, and the vacant farms and beautiful farm homes throughout this country with windows nailed up with boards and weeds growing around the house.

There is a way to keep the boy and girl on the farm and to support the wheat farms of the North West. It is a market to justify and existence a living wage for their production of wheat or grain, stock or dairy products. When this is done, the best hard wheat that can be grown in the world, only to be had in North Dakota and the North West can be raised, harvested and marketed at a fair profit and times will be different. The boys will stay on the farms and they will not be a large Congress for huge loans of money. They will be a happy and contented people and will remain on the farms and pay the old mortgage and State and National loans or other loans which we hope to forget.

Sincerely yours,
A FARMER

New York, Jan. 30. Stars of the screen may shine with prominence and popularity.

But there is a galaxy of stars behind the screen that outshines most of the favorites in financial return and importance.

One hundred thousand dollars a year for the services of Anita Loos, or $1000 weekly to Jeanne Macpherson or Clara Beranger are examples of the rewards paid to some women writers in Finland. Yet there are women of even greater importance than these who, it is believed, get proportionately higher pay for their services.

Here, for one instance, beauty, brains and high pay are mutual companions.

Take June Mathis. She is editorial director of Goldwyn pictures, and no slouch on facial features, either. She is said to command the largest salary ever paid by a motion picture firm to a woman, with the exception of two or three leading stars.

Miss Mathis selects the stories for her company, watches their progress in the making, even directs the directors, and gives the pictures their final touches before they are released.

Frances Marion is one of the few women directors in the game—certainly the only woman who has directed such stars as Mary Pickford and Norma Talmadge. She writes scenarios and prepares continuity, too.

Famous husband and wife combinations are Anita Loos, who produces scenarios and original scripts with her husband, John Emerson; Olga Berenger, who prepares the continuity for her husband, George Fitzmaurice; and Josephine Lovett, wife of John S. Robertson, who supplies the continuity and consults with him in matters of costume, decoration, and selecting stories.

The "right-hand man" of Cecil De Mille is Jeanne Macpherson. Florence Strauss is eastern scenario editor for First National Pictures while Marion Fairfax, wife of "Tully Marshall," has charge of the western branch.

Gertrude Chase combines writing scenarios with editing film. Clara Beranger and Rita Weiman are both brilliant writers who combine literary ability and humor and appeal in just the proportion to produce box office attractions.

Unique in her field is Katherine Hilliker, one of the few title writers who gets her name on the screen with the author and director.

Clair West, Ethel Chaffin and Sophie Wachner have achieved fame and wealth in the same field, estimating the stars and taking charge of the wardrobe problems of huge producing companies.

DEBATING TEAM ENTERTAINS
Following the debate held in the High School Auditorium last evening, the members of the Bismarck debating team, the members of the Steele team, their coach, superintendent, the judges and chairman at an informal gathering in the Domestic Science room of the school building. Miss Morris, assisted by one of her cooking classes served a delightful three-course supper. The centerpiece was a reproduction of the St. Lawrence River and the Great Lakes with miniature ships sailing upon them. The place cards, nut baskets and menus were carried out in a red and white color scheme. Following the supper informal talks were given by George Knowles, Miss Dittmer, and L. F. Crawford. Covers were laid for thirty and the out-of-town guests were: Supt. Torvend of Steele; Miss Florence Dittmer, Miss Evelyn Stocks, Forrest Carlson, Clarence Dahlquist, all of Steele and David Lingen, principal of the Mandan schools.

ADDRESS COMMUNITY COUNCIL
Dr. Louis Boutelle has been secured to address the Woman's Community Council, which meets Saturday afternoon at 3:30 in the East Room at the Masonic Temple. Dr. Boutelle will be remembered as having helped in the very successful clinic held in this city last spring when so many children were examined during Child Welfare week. Dr. Boutelle is in charge of the work created by the passage of the Shepherd-Towner Act in which the women and children of the rural districts of the state are given the advantage of Dr. Boutelle's consultation and service free of charge. It is of this work that the doctor will speak next Saturday. Every mother of the city and every woman interested in child welfare work are asked to be present and hear Dr. Boutelle.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE PARTY
Fourteen little girl friends were entertained at a surprise party for Miss Inez Meinhover, at her home 322 Seventh St. yesterday afternoon, the occasion being Miss Inez's fourteenth birthday. Games were enjoyed during the afternoon and as a fitting close Mrs. Meinhover served a delicious luncheon with a beautiful cake iced in white and decorated with lighted candles decorating it, serving as an effective centerpiece. The color scheme carried out was one of yellow and white. Many pretty gifts were given the honor guest to help remind her of the day.

ENTERTAINS AT KITCHEN SHOWER
Miss Mary Bucholz was hostess last evening to twenty-six guests at a kitchen shower given for Miss Mary Anderson at the Business and Professional Women's club rooms. Guests made such a merry and honor guest early in the evening and a mock wedding was a feature of the entertainment for the evening. A dainty luncheon was served at 11 o'clock and Miss Anderson received a number of useful, pretty and practical gifts. Miss Anderson will be a bride of early February.

SON WEDS IN EAST
Douglas Galloway, son of P. E. Galloway of this city, who has sprung to prominence on the stage since leaving the city less than three years ago, was married to his dancing partner, Miss Gudrun Jonassen, in Hartford, Conn., according to an announcement received by the father. Both are with "Little Nellie Kelly," a George M. Cohan musical production. Galloway does a whirlwind dance and Miss Jonassen a fan dance.

R. C. BRIDGE CLUB ENTERTAINED
Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Knudson delightfully entertained the members of the R. C. Bridge club Saturday evening at their home. Two tables of bridge were played during the evening after which a dainty two-course luncheon was served. Mr. and Mrs. Peck members of the club were unable to be present and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Haskins were guests of the club. Honors went to Mr. C. A. Haskins and Mrs. Frank Brasie.

TUESDAY BRIDGE ENTERTAINED
Mrs. Overt Olson was hostess to members of the Tuesday Bridge Club yesterday afternoon at her home, 208 W. Third Street. Members of the club enjoyed the game during the afternoon and Mrs. O. Lundquist was found to hold high score and at the conclusion of the game, delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

VISITS DAUGHTER
Mrs. Wyl Nelson of Valley City is visiting with her daughter, Miss Minnie J. Nelson at her home in the Thompson Apartments.

CURRENT EVENTS CLUB MEET
The Current Events Club is being entertained this afternoon at a one o'clock pot luck luncheon at the home of Mrs. J. A. Larson. The occasion will be the meeting of the club.

To Whiten Skin With Lemon

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quart-pint of the most wonderful skin whiteners, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also to soothe red, rough or chapped hands and face. You must mix this remarkable bleach yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

casian will be a very jolly affair and marks the mid year change of officers of the club. Mrs. Overt Olson retires from the presidency in favor of Mrs. E. A. Thorberg.

GIRLS RESERVES MEETING
The Girl Reserves of the First Presbyterian church enjoyed a very interesting program Monday evening. Chairman Helen Crawford of the program committee and eight of the older girls presented a short mission play dramatization entitled "Hanging Out My Sign." A duet by Helen Crawford and Melba Whitmore was well rendered. Mrs. H. L. Wheeler, in costume, gave a Japanese Girl's Valedictorian address. A very happy evening was spent at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Whitmore, 714 Second Street last week when the older girls of the Girl Reserves entertained the Great Bears and the Hi Y leaders.

ENTERTAINS FOR HUSBAND
Mrs. R. E. Potter entertained four tables of whist at a surprise birthday party for her husband, Saturday evening. After a social hour during which Mr. Potter received gifts and congratulations and well wishes, whist was enjoyed until a late hour after which the hostess served a delicious luncheon. Mr. and Mrs. W. Mills received the prizes for high score.

JUNIOR PLAYMAKERS TO MEET
A regular meeting of the Junior Playmakers will be held this evening in the High School Auditorium at 7:30. After the business meeting a one act play, "The Revolt" will be presented by the members of the Playmakers.

SEWING CIRCLE MEETS
St. Mary's sewing circle will meet tomorrow afternoon in the auditorium of the school at 2:30. Mrs. Kelley and Mrs. Whaley will be hostesses for the afternoon. It is hoped that a good attendance of the parish may be present.

D. A. R. MEETING
The regular meeting of the Minnisishe Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will be held Friday at 1 o'clock at the McKenzie hotel. Leonard Bell has been secured to give the regular address at this luncheon.

COMMITTEE ENTERTAIN
A committee from the Catholic Lady Foresters will entertain this evening at a benefit Progressive Norwegian whist party at the home of Mrs. J. W. Curran, 223 Third street. Playing will begin at 8 o'clock.

CANTONS TO MEET
All Cantons and ladies who plan on going to the party at Horace Menzies, at Gussner's farm Thursday evening are asked to meet at the Grand Pacific Hotel at 7:30.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

Editors Note—Following is a letter written in response to the request of nine Senators that people of the Northwest inform them of their desires regarding farm legislation.

Bismarck, N. D., January 30, 1924.
Hon. Lynn J. Frazier,
U. S. Senate,
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:
Replying to the message sent out by nine Senators asking for personal opinions of Farmers of the North West, regarding a bill to be passed by the present session of Congress, for relief of North West Farmers and Wheat Growers.

In writing my personal experience, we want a bill or law passed that will protect the wheat grower, grain, a price that will insure a reasonable margin above the cost of production. We have been selling our wheat for the last ten years or more below the cost of production because of a manipulated market. We do not want to borrow money—we are sick of borrowing. Loaning and bonding, high taxes and in-

New York, Jan. 30.—Stars of the screen may shine with prominence and popularity.

But there is a galaxy of stars behind the screen that outshines most of the favorites in financial return and importance.

One hundred thousand dollars a year for the services of Anita Loos, or $1000 weekly to Jeannie Macpherson or Clara Beranger are examples of the rewards paid to some women writers in Hollywood. Yet there are women of even greater importance than these who, it is believed, get proportionately higher pay for their services.

Here, for one instance, beauty, brains and high pay are mutual companions.

Take June Mathis. She is editorial director of Goldwyn pictures, and no slouch on facial features, either. She is said to command the largest salary ever paid by a motion picture firm to a woman, with the exception of two or three leading stars.

Miss Mathis selects the stories for her company, watches their progress in the making, even directs the directors and gives the pictures their final touches before they are released.

Frances Marion is one of the few women directors in the game—certainly the only woman who has directed such stars as Mary Pickford and Norma Talmadge. She writes scenarios and prepares continuity, too.

Famous husband and wife combinations are Anita Loos, who produces scenarios and original scripts with her husband, John Emerson; Ouida Bergere, who prepares the continuity for her husband, George Fitzmaurice; and Josephine Lovett, wife of John S. Robertson, who supplies the continuity and consults with him in matters of costuming, decoration, and selecting stories.

The "right-hand man" of Cecil De Mille is Jeannie Macpherson.

Florence Straus is custom scenario editor for First National Pictures while Marion Fairfax, wife of Tully Marshall, has charge of the western branch.

Gertrude Chase combines writing scenarios with editing film.

Clara Beranger and Rita Weiman are both brilliant writers who combine literary ability and human appeal in just the proportion to produce box office attractions.

Unique in her field is Katherine Hilliker, one of the few little writers who gets her name on the screen with the author and director.

Claire West, Ethel Chaffin and Sophie Wachner have achieved fame and wealth in the same field—costuming the stars and taking charge of the wardrobe problems of large producing companies.

There is a way to keep the boy on farm products that will insure a profit rather than a loss. A law enacted that will wipe out the speculation and price fixing upon wheat and other food cereals. Give the farmers of the Northwest a chance to live and they will not ask for loans of money. Otherwise they will leave the farms to seek other ways to support their families, and the vacant farms and beautiful farm homes throughout this country with windows nailed up with boards and weeds growing around the house.

THE Modern Laundry

Few people, in the busy hustling of every day life, ever stop a moment to consider the importance, and development of the Business Institutions of their city.

Business Houses are built and big business developed, and you say, "Oh, that is just a small place cropped up, and doesn't amount to much. If it did, we would hear more about it." Among these Bismarck business houses is the "Modern Laundry."

A few years ago the laundry was a place to get the boiled shirt and stiff collar ironed and that was about all it amounted to, but it is different today. The laundry is the true friend of the housewife. With the development of machinery and trained labor, the scientific application of sanitary standards links the laundry to the home closer than most any other line of industry.

A Friend of the Housewife

Now the "Laundry" is really a big department store business, with every kind of service the woman of the house may wish. The Wet Wash department, the "Rough Dry" department, the all ironed, or "Family Finish" department, and last but not least the "Bachelor" department.

It is truly a wonderful institution, and we want the women to become better acquainted with this "Modern Laundry." See the wonderful washing machines; wonderful extractors and dryers; mammoth ironing machines; delicate collar machines, and the hundred and one other things that go to make a real "Modern Laundry."

CONSIDER BURLEIGH COUNTY

The stability shown in Burleigh county and in Bismarck, as evidenced by financial strength of big institutions, increased building in the city, good tax payments, lack of unemployment has been the subject of remarks by many visitors to Bismarck last fall and this winter. The situation is, however, not surprising if the factors are considered.

Burleigh county was awarded second place in the state corn show. Her fine corn and known facts as to the acreage, are sufficient to point out the tremendous value of the corn crop to the county.

Fair crops in many products, increased sales of milk, turkeys, hogs, livestock, plenitude of feed—all these are factors which have added to the stability of the county. It is generally agreed that agriculture is not prosperous generally—it would be foolish to contend that it is—but the concrete evidence in Burleigh county, at least, is that conditions are not as bad as many have painted.

The $100,000 rip-rapping job on the river, the city's waterworks plant, the heavy building—these have absorbed much surplus labor and have steadied the situation.

Also Burleigh county people generally got down to bed-rock two years ago. The after-the-war inflation ceased here and elsewhere in western North Dakota before it did in many sections. The peak of her troubles was passed long ago.

Corn, hogs, cattle, dairying, poultry, with a rotation of crops, corn, hogs, cattle, dairying, poultry, with a rotation of crops which includes grain raising. The same factors which have stabilized Burleigh county have stabilized other counties in western North Dakota which are a part of Bismarck's trade territory. Expansion of the state government has brought an increased payroll to the city. More coal was mined in Burleigh county last year than in any other county of the state.

The booster spirit ought never to die. It ought to be uppermost in Burleigh county at a time when the opportunity for great development lies just ahead. Her fertile acres, where as fine corn can be grown as anywhere in the United States; her broad pastures in which as fine hogs, cattle and turkeys can be produced as any section, within the next few years be the means of attracting many farmers now struggling in states to the south under the burden of too high priced land. Land values will rise. And many who now believe they are burdened by holding too much land may within the next few years profit immensely.

WOMAN'S LURE

What qualities of womanhood are most attractive to men? A reader, asking this question, says in his letter, to the editor: "I gather, from movies and fiction and news stories, that the most admirable traits or qualities in a man are bravery, brains, honor and loyalty. Please write about the most desirable characteristics of a woman. What must she possess to be an ideal sweetheart and wife?"

Every woman gives a lot of thought to this problem. The great philosophers have pondered it.

Pooling authorities: The most attractive and desirable qualities in a woman are modesty, love, beauty, loyalty, poise, reserve, companionship, personal magnetism—and mystery.

Men, courting women for their future wives and mothers of their children, instinctively seek, first of all, love, modesty, companionship and loyalty.

Beauty is the biological lure. But isn't its influence usually over-rated? Consider the multitude of men who are quite contented to pass up the beauties and marry women only moderately attractive.

Of course, for the homeliest woman in the world, there's some man who'll consider her the most attractive. Yes, love is blind.

Handsome men frequently marry homely women. Brilliant men often marry women with very little brains. Practical women marry impractical men. Beauties mate with commonplace males. Tall women with short husbands. Tall husbands with short wives. Good marriages bad. Small wonder, love baffles the philosophers.

In the last analysis, all this contradictory state of affairs is merely nature evening things up—restoring the balance between the sexes—preventing the race from veering too far from the normal or average appearances, mentality, emotion and character.

FEW GET EDUCATION

We talk about this, being a great country for education. But 561 out of every 1000 boys and girls who enter high school quit and go to work before they graduate. These are average figures for the whole country.

Considering the prosperity of our nation, every child should have a high school education. Only a minority of them get it. And only about half who enter high school graduate. This is the deplorable thing to remember when statistics experts talk about big production of steel or autos. Brains, our greatest form of national wealth, should be our chief investment for the future. Unfortunately not.

They talk a lot about Muscle Shoals and similar projects. They had, of course, that these natural resources are not developed. But our greatest national resource is BRAINS OF THE YOUNG.

Many a boy, doomed to child labor under our present system, might become an Edison or a Gary if enabled to develop his brain.

Brain and brawn are the ONLY forms of national wealth. In the long run. Emotion—heart and character—is a separate thing. It has to do with happiness. Uncle Sam neglects his best investment, child brain.

FILING THE RANKS OF TEACHERS

There are in New York state 50,000 teachers. Their average tenure is seven years; consequently 8,000 new teachers must be enlisted annually to keep the ranks full. The number of school children is increasing rapidly. Every year 1,500 teachers are needed to take care of the increase. To provide the 9,500 new teachers needed, 10,000 high school graduates must enter in the normal schools. The high schools graduate about 25,000 a year, of whom 9,000 have trained themselves for commercial pursuits. Of the remaining 14,000 more than 4,000 go on to college leaving less than the requisite 10,000 for the normal schools. Every one knows, however, that nothing like 100 per cent of this remainder will enroll in the normal schools. We should doubt that the percentage would run above 50 or 60.—The New Republic.

THE INVESTIGATION MANIA

Fear that opposition to an investigation will be construed as an admission that there is something to be investigated has led to a bit of psychology that the promoters of these congressional probes thoroughly understand. As a consequence congress is said to be threatened with no less than fifty investigations covering practically every bureau and commission of the government.

Everybody knows that in the majority of cases the investigation is a waste of time. The government pigeon holes are cluttered with reports which have consumed weeks and months of time at a cost to the public all out of proportion to the benefit accruing.

Too much investigation may be as unprofitable as too much legislation, more especially as the one provokes the other.—Lowell Evening Ledger.

THE ANNAPOLIS CADETS

Secretary Denby has issued an order to the superintendent at Annapolis to the effect that any shipman found guilty of being under the influence of intoxicating liquor or having liquor in his possession within the limits of the academy grounds will be subject to dismissal from the academy and from the naval force.

It is lamentable that such an order should be necessary, but it is justifiable and should be enforced. Scandalous tales of drinking among the cadets at the Naval academy have circulated for some time. The secretary now proposes to enforce the extreme penalty upon all those young men who, engaged in training for naval officer ship, violate the law which they are sworn to obey and maintain.

Good discipline is the basis of all efficiency, and discipline cannot be maintained with lawbreaking. It is in the last degree important that the future officers of the navy, commanders of men, trustees of great responsibilities, should be scrupulously law-abiding and temperate.—Washington Star.

THE PRESIDENT'S SPECIAL MESSAGE

President Coolidge's special message to Congress on the farm situation in the Northwest, conferred in a striking and concrete fashion the active interest in the subject that was evinced in his first general message seven weeks ago. It shows that he has made an extensive study of conditions and that he is keeping an alert eye on developments growing out of what he understands to be an unmistakable agricultural emergency.

One of the outstanding features of the special message is the President's emphasis of the point that this emergency is properly the concern, not merely of the farmers of the Northwest, or even of the entire business and economic interests of the Northwest, but in a very large measure of the country as a whole. It is in this larger purview of the situation that he summons both governmental agencies and private enterprise to the rescue of those who have fallen victims to an abnormal complex of circumstances.

It is not at all in the purpose of President Coolidge to be an alarmist. He is well aware that many of the farmers of the Northwest are operating on a profitable basis. Where there is dairying or other phases of diversified farming the farmers are making their way, but there is a large number, not so postured, who have given way under the strain and who need outside aid to get them again on solid economic footing. Timely relief for them will be timely relief also for non-agricultural interests who have done what they could to carry them along and tide them over, if possible, to better things. The President invokes assistance for the interwoven interests that have suffered, and are still suffering, in common. He believes there is a broad field for co-operative effort, the effect of which would be felt distinctly for good by all the co-operating agencies which may undertake the work of mutual helpfulness.

When President Coolidge suggests a broad program for immediate relief to relax the stress of the emergency, he does not for a moment lose sight of the fact that diversification is fundamentally reconstruction in the Northwest, or, in other words, indispensable as a permanent farm policy. He indorses the pending plan for government aid in promotion of the movement to balanced farming, which he desires, that as well as other relief measures, shall be so drawn as to safeguard adequately not only the interests of the farmers who will be its beneficiaries,

Famous Editor Solves Hard Problem

Lately our trousers have been bugging so at the knees we found taking them off at night becoming very difficult.

Three weeks ago we could remove them by imagining they were boots, and tugging accordingly.

Two weeks ago we were forced to start using a bootjack.

One week ago the bootjack broke. Then, by nothing less than inspiration, we remembered a "home help" we wrote last summer. We put the trousers on backward.

After wearing the trousers backward three days the bag at the knees was gone. Now we plan to alternate, one day the trousers will be on right and the next day on backward.

If your trousers suffer from knee-bagging try this plan.

LETTER FROM RUTH ELLINGTON TO LESLIE PRESCOTT

MY DEAR LESLIE:

I have certainly gotten in bad with Jack now if I never did before. You made the deal with the black-mailing gentleman and bought the pearl for four thousand dollars, which I think was a pretty good stroke of business.

Not knowing what to do with it and the remainder of the money—for I did not dare deposit it to my account I decided I would go and put it in the safety deposit vault in your bedroom.

I arrived at your place about five o'clock in the afternoon and was just opening your vault when, with a warning cluck came in. Naturally he looked surprised and very suspicious.

I informed him that I had made some stupendous sales and I did not want to deposit the money in the bank right away and that I was sure you would not mind my using the vault for a night or two.

He jumped at the conclusion that Harry was sending me money and that I did not want to deposit it, on account of Harry's creditors who might attack it. He said immediately, "You needn't feel at all alarmed but the interests of the general public."

In a rather exceptional way, this message is directed to the public mind as well as to the collective mind of Congress—it is vivid in outline, but it does not undertake to fill in details. The "blue prints," so to speak, are left to Congress and interested private enterprises.—Minneapolis Tribune.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS
BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"You'll guess this riddle first crack out of the box," said the Riddle Lady. "But we have had so many hard ones I thought this would be nice for a change. This isn't a summer riddle or a winter riddle. It's a fair weather riddle, though, for unless it's reasonably fine weather you can't see the thing the riddle is about. Listen now everybody, Nanny and Nick, come up close beside me where you can hear:

"Twinkle, twinkle, little light, High above the world at night, Singing to the silver moon, A magic tune.

"You are just a tiny spark, Hanging up, there in the dark, Like a cinder from the sun, When the day is done.

"You play peep-sh with the clouds, That chase each other by in crowds, Clutching with your tiny fingers, One that lingers.

"All your sisters, then, and cousins, Come a crowding out by dozens, Just to see what makes you merry! Jolly fairy!

"As they wink and blink and twinkle, All the sky looks like a sprinkle Of white sugar on a cake, That fairies bake.

"Is the Moon Man your big brother? Or is Lady Moon your mother? Does she keep you in all day, And make you play?

"I have seen you run a scotting, Clear across the sky a shooting, Who brings you home, I'd like to know, When you go?

"Do Uncle Mars and Auntie Venus Say 'We'll get him home between us'?

And lead you 'long the Milky Way, When it's day?

"It's a start!" cried everybody. "Well, well, well!" laughed the Riddle Lady. "I should say you did guess it."

But just then a new voice spoke up. It was the Man in the Moon who had tumbled down and was about to ask his way to Norwich.

"That's a very nice riddle," he declared. "But some day when I have more time I'll come and tell you all about stars and why they run off sometimes and everything like that. And I'll tell you all about the Milky Way, too, for you know it really isn't made of milk at all. But I must not stay. I really must go to Norwich to find out when I can get back to the Moon. There won't be anybody there to run it tonight if I don't get back. And it's likely to run off its track and wreck a thousand little stars."

Mother Goose spoke up then. "No need for that," she said. "I'll take you back on magic broom."

"Better still!" put in Daddy Gander. "I'll take you on my magic dustpan and the Twins can go along."

MANDAN NEWS

ROTARY KEY TO DICKINSON

Otto Bauer of the Bingenheimer Mercantile company has returned from Dickinson where he had been a delegate from the Mandan Rotary club of which he is president, to present to the Dickinson Rotarians the key to the City of St. Paul which is being passed from club to club in this state.

"Dickinson Rotarians have gotten squarely behind the proposition that the future of the Missouri Slope lies in diversification of farming operations," said Mr. Bauer. "The Dickinson Rotary club has announced its intention of giving fifteen prizes to the boys who exhibit the finest samples of corn raised on a two-acre field. Each entry must plant and care for at least two acres of corn but is not limited to that small acreage."

OPPORTUNITY SCHOOLS

"Opportunity Schools" for those who have not had the advantage of completing a common school education, or for the foreign born who desire to learn the English language will be conducted in Morton county for a period of six weeks commencing February 4 and continuing until March 14, according to an announcement made by County Superintendent of Schools H. E. Jensen.

Opportunity will be afforded any one who desires to take advantage of these night schools, which are to be established for the purposes: First, to teach those who desire to learn to read and write; second, for those older boys and girls who did not complete the eighth grade and who have passed the school age or have attained their majority; third, those seeking to pass the naturalization tests.

TEACHER KILLED

Mrs. Norman O. Henchel, formerly a teacher in the Mandan high school, was killed a short time ago in Los Angeles in an automobile accident according to word just received here by former friends.

Mrs. Henchel, formerly Miss Georgia Brandenberg, was the first teacher in physical training of the high school and was married here to Norman Henchel, formerly employed by the Northern Great Plains Experimental station.

She taught here two terms during 1918 and 1919.

"As it happens there is no other. Silence. He swore to himself. He had no desire to skate within a mile of her confounded mysteries, and now like a fool he had precipitated himself into their midst again. But if she would talk."

"Suppose we talk of something else," he said hurriedly. "I assure you that I have deliberately suppressed all curiosity. I am only too thankful to know you on any terms."

"But you think I am in danger again?"

"Yes, I do. That is, if you wish to keep your identity a secret—for your own good reason. Of course, no harm can come to you. I assume that you are not a political refugee—in danger of assassina-tion!"

"I am not. What is Mr. Dinwiddie's inference?" She was looking at him eagerly.

"That you really are a friend of Countess Zattiany, but for some motive or other you are using her name instead of your own. That—that you had your own reasons for escaping from Austria—"

"Escaping?"

"One was that you might have got into some political mess—restoration of Charles, or something."

She laughed outright.

"The other was well—that you are hiding from your husband."

"My husband is dead," she said emphatically.

"It is not a comedy," she said grimly.

"Oh! Not tragedy?" he cried in alarm.

"No—not yet. Not yet. I am beginning to wish that I had never come to America."

"Now I shall ask you why."

"And I shall not tell you. I have read your Miss Dwight's novel, by the way, and think it quite hideous."

"So do I. But that is the reason of its success. And the conversation meandered along the safe by-ways of American fiction through the tea and coffee."

INCOME TAX

STATE INCOME TAX LAW.

Following is the second of a series of articles covering provisions of the state income tax law prepared by the state tax department.

No. 2

WHO MUST MAKE RETURNS.

Every unmarried person who was a resident of this state on January 1st, 1924, having a net income of $1,000 or over must file a return even though no tax need be paid. A minor child having an income of over $1,000 or over must file a return.

Every married person having a net income of $2,000 or over is required to file a return. It is the combined income of the husband and wife that will determine whether a return must be filed.

Partnerships are not subject to the tax but every partnership must file a return showing the income of the partnership and how much of that income belongs to each partner.

The tax must be returned regardless of the amount of their income.

Every fiduciary or trustee must make a return for the estate or trust for which he acts.

Every individual, partnership or corporation being a resident or having a place of business in the state must make a return of information covering payments of salaries of $1,000 or over to payments of interest, rents or other gains amounting to $500 or over.

All returns must be filed on or before March 15th, except the case of corporation fiscal year returns. The amount of the tax payable when the return is filed. Returns must be filed with the State Tax Commissioner at Bismarck, N. D.

Deng Is Called Best Cage Star In The Big Ten

By NEA Service

Ann Arbor, Mich., Jan. 30.—Out into the Western Conference basketball spotlight has stepped Roy Deng, crack forward of the University of Michigan quintet, who looms as the king of the year.

Deng got his chance in the recent brush with Illinois when the Wolverines opened their Big Ten season in the new Y. M. C. A. gym. Before that game he has been used as a guard, but against the Maize and Blue followers he was stationed at a forward position.

Paired with no less a celebrity than George Haggerty, Michigan ace, Deng was the outstanding star of the game, getting two field goals and a much needed toss from the foul lines, Michigan winning by but a one point margin. Deng's passing, floor work and defensive play stopped many ambitious Illinois rallies.

Deng is a senior and comes from Mt. Clemens, Mich., where he was a star in high school. He reported for the Michigan quintet last season, but left the squad shortly after the candidates were called out.

Billy Evans Says

Is it advisable for the star college athlete to enter professional sport as a means of livelihood? At present that is a much debated question. Convincing arguments can be offered pro and con. In a majority of cases it proves a profitable move for the college baseball star to enter the pro game provided he has enough ability to make the big league grade.

It was Connie Mack, famous leader of the Philadelphia Athletics, who created a big field in baseball for college ball players. He was the first major league manager to see real merit in the collegian.

During the past five years the college ball player has become quite the vogue in the big show. Unquestionably the great success of George Sisler had much to do with boosting the stock of the "Fab" "Fab" boys. Major league scouts watch the work of the college players closely. All the important games in the early spring on college diamonds are scouted as carefully as are the leading minor leagues later in the season.

The practice of the college baseball star signing with some major league is now treated as a matter of fact manner by the colleges. It in no way affects the popularity that the player may have attained during his college days.

The coming of professional football has made a field for college grid stars of the country. Last season perhaps 50 cities in the United States boasted teams that could be classed as major elevens. Most of the teams were recruited from former college stars. The promoters of the pro football very wisely agreed that there should be no tampering with players still in college. This move was made so as not to engender the enmity of the college coaches. The playing of professional football by the college star is not nearly so well received as joining the major leagues. Football coaches seem to think that a grid star is simply wasting so many years when he plays football after leaving college. Likewise, too, much strenuous football often plays havoc with physical condition.

Professional football and baseball are soft spots for the college star to pick up some pin money after getting the old sheepskin. Often the bankroll is badly depleted at the close of the senior year.

During the war boxing was given a great play by the colleges. It has progressed rapidly and is almost a major sport in many institutions. Only recently I was talking to the boxing instructor at one of the big institutions of the east and he told me that he had two heavyweights who inside of two years could make it mighty unpleasant for Jack Dempsey. However, neither has the slightest idea of turning professional. Boxing, by the way, is the only college sport that seldom produces a professional. I understand the boxing instructors constantly dwell on the fact that pro boxing offers nothing certain except a battered countenance.

PLAYS EVERY GAME

Harry Lunte, former member of the Cleveland Indians, now with Rochester in the American Association, was the only player in every game in which his team participated. When in the American League Lunte was the original hard-luck guy, injuries putting him out of it every time he got a chance to show.

ANOTHER ARMY LAD TRAILS DEMPSEY

Ad Stone, Fistic Product of War, Has Earmarks or Real Star

Philadelphia Youngster Begins to Overshadow Other Light Heavyweights

By JOE WILLIAMS

Philadelphia, Jan. 30.—The next time one of these petulant pacifists tries to end a debate on the spoils of war by demanding to know, in his characteristic manner, just what in the black America got out of the European rumpus, anyhow, shut him up this way:

"A couple of pretty fair prize fighters."

Now, maybe this isn't much to brag about and possibly it isn't exactly what the idealists had in mind when they set out to make the world safe for democracy, but it's something, especially in a country that has developed a million-dollar fight appetite.

We'll pass lightly over Bob Martin, Augie Kerner, Babe Asher and Sergeant Ray Smith, fistic products of the war, who shone with a sort of patriotic splendor right after the armistice, and then faded into obscurity.

Gene Tunney, too, needs no further introduction, though the light heavyweight champion of the A. E. P., and present holder of the same title among American professionals, figures rather importantly in this year.

We come now to Stanley Adam Stone, young Philadelphia, who is currently making startling and significant gestures in the 175-pound division, having decisively conquered opposition of the caliber of Mike Burke and Billy Shade, not to mention others more or less formidable.

Has Dempsey's Style

Ad Stone, as he is known to the ring, enlisted and went overseas with two other brothers, Enoch and Williams, both fighters. Enoch, as "Battling" Ryan, made quite a creditable record as a middleweight in Pennsylvania. Enoch was badly wounded and forced to retire. Williams was more fortunate and now serves as Ad's sparring partner.

Stone was a mere youth when he maneuvered himself into the army. Today he is only 22 years old, the youngest light heavyweight in the game, excepting Strubling, the Georgia boy. He has been fighting professionally less than two years. He is remarkably well built and it will not be long before he is a full-fledged heavyweight.

Stone's next bout of consequence may be against Gene Tunney, the champion, and himself a product of the war camps. The spectacle of two scrapping stalwarts, trained and inspired by your Uncle Samuel, fighting for a national fistic championship, would at least be unique. Very, you can thank the war for that.

Needs More Experience

In build and ring style, Stone reminds you strikingly of Dempsey. He has Dempsey's major characteristic of banking all on an eternally aggressive offense. Like the champion, Stone believes if you hit the other fellow first and often enough, you won't have to worry much about getting hit yourself.

From this you may take it that Stone is not hard to hit. You are right. To an experienced fighter this is not a great handicap. It is a great handicap to Dempsey, for instance. To Stone, however, it is, because he has not had much experience. For that reason he ought to proceed cautiously. Even Tunney, by no means a great fighter, probably knows too much for him at this writing.

Stone is being trained by Lou Segal, a veteran lightweight, and a close family friend. It is unnecessary to comment on Segal's capabilities other than to say that Stone has made more progress in a year's time than any youngster who has come to the sport in the past decade.

FRENZIED FINANCE GETS BIG PLAY IN SALE OF STARS

BY BILLY EVANS

Who started "Krenzied finance" in baseball, related to the purchase of minor league stars?

Fifteen years back, if some "bush league" phenom sought by a half dozen major league clubs brought $7500 it was regarded as a fabulous price to have paid for an untried recruit.

Those days, however, are over, for at present there is no limit to what a big league will pay for a player of promise.

The increased value now placed on the bush leaguer also goes for the veteran who is rated as one of the outstanding stars.

When Eddie Collins was sold by Connie Mack to the Chicago White

JAP STAR IS MAT CAPTAIN

KATSUTOSHI NAITO

One of the best college wrestlers in the country today is Katsutoshi Naito, a Japanese, as you may have surmised. The Honorable Mr. Naito is not only the star of the Penn State wrestling squad but captain as well. He wrestles in the 135-pound class and Coach Dave Detar expects him to win the national collegiate title this year. Naito will get his first chance against Syracuse early in February.

MEANWELL AND WISCONSIN

Coach Meanwell has been tutoring Wisconsin basketball teams since 1912. During the 12 seasons he has guided the court destinies of the Badgers his proteges have romped off with three championships, besides disputing as many others. In 1922 Wisconsin also tied for second place, while in 1915 and 1917 it finished in a tie for third.

CHECK PROVES BIG SALE

In certain quarters the sale price was regarded as mere "bunk." The St. Paul club finally produced the canceled check as proof. Said clerk was produced in as many papers as the photographs of O'Toole.

O'Toole proved more or less of a fizzle. The possessor of a deceptive spittball, he lacked control, and when the major leagues waited him out his effectiveness was greatly minimized. He is classed in the light of a failure.

It is said that O'Toole's failure caused Barney Dreyfus to put a ban on all spittballers, and that his scouts were instructed to pass up any pitcher who depended on the spitter for success. No more trick pitchers for Barney.

Murphy's Squad Of Harness Nags Best In World

By NEA Service.

Syracuse, N. Y., Jan. 30.—What is probably the most representative stable of high-class harness horses in the country is being maintained here by Tommy Murphy, Grand Circuit star.

Murphy has a string of 38 horses in training and most of them are top-notchers. Nineteen are trotters with records, and 16 of this number have earned marks below 2:10, while eight are in the select 2:05 list.

These include Rose Scott, 2:03 3/4; Mrs. Yerkes, 2:02 1/4; Czar Worthy, 2:03 1/4; Pearl Benbow, 2:03 1/4; Hollywood Leonard, 2:03 3/4; Etta Duven, 2:04; Mary Anna, 2:04 1/2; and Clyde the Great, 2:04 3/4.

Another Former Grid Star Seeks Fame In Majors

Lincoln, Neb., Jan. 30.—From the sandlot to the major league, a big jump, but that's what Fred (Terrible) Thompson, former Cornhusker football star, plans to do.

He has been sold to the St. Louis Cardinals by the Lincoln State League team with which he signed recently. He has never played anything more than amateur baseball. At Nebraska University he was considered a good catcher with great ability at hammering the horsehide.

"Terrible" is best known as a football player.

When he was at Nebraska he played end and had a hard time staying on the squad with Clarence Swanson, an All-American selection, and Leo Sherer, almost as good, holding down the flank jobs.

In the Syracuse game of 1922, however, Swanson got hurt and Fred got his chance.

Nebraska scored a single touchdown that day and lost. Thompson made that the major league when he recovered a fumble.

Last fall he played professional football with the Olympics at Omaha.

INDOOR GOLF BOOMS

More indoor golf schools have been opened this winter than ever before in the history of the sport. Many noted professionals who formerly went south for the winter are remaining behind to act as instructors in these schools. One of the biggest of its kind in America is in Chicago, supervised by Bob MacDonald, siege gunner of the links.

COLLEGE UMPIRE SYSTEM

The leading colleges of the east are said to be considering an umpire system for baseball that will be along the same lines as that employed by the major leagues. A veteran big league umpire will be the chief, and he will select and assign the other umpires, as well as working the important games himself.

MAROON STAR IS INELIGIBLE

John Thomas, Jamestown, N. D. Man, Is Disqualified

Chicago, Jan. 30.—John Thomas, University of Chicago fullback who was an all-American in 1922, and an all-Western conference in 1923, has been declared ineligible for further public collegiate activities and asked to resign as president of the senior class.

Thomas lost a major in statistics during the autumn quarter and notification of the ruling was served on him by Dean Wilkins through the undergraduate council.

The rule will bar Thomas from trying out for a place on the Maroon track squad this year. He was expected to compete in the shot-put and sports dash events.

Last fall Harry Thomas, his brother, was declared ineligible on grounds of the game with Illinois, but later was restored to good standing.

The Thomas brothers live in Jamestown.

INDEPENDENT TEAM FORMED

"Triple B's" Will Represent Bismarck in State

Bismarck today has an independent basketball team—the "Triple B's"—the first since 1915.

The team will play its first game at the Bismarck high school gym Saturday night at 8 o'clock with Company K of Dickinson.

The "Triple B's" will have the pick of a lot of former college and high school stars in Bismarck. They include Sorlien, former Luther college, Decorah, Ia. player; "Dutch" Houser, U. of North Dakota; Donovan, former A. C. man; Anfinsen, formerly with Valley City when the team won the state high championship, and Lee Scroggins, Bruce Murphy, Rhud and Benzer of Bismarck high.

Company K's team embraces former college and high school stars and has been going good this year. Many fans have urged the formation of an independent team to represent Bismarck, because there is plenty of good material here.

They Don't Come Back, Eh? Well Mac Smith Did and After a Lapse of More Than Ten Years

BY JOE WILLIAMS

On the bleak, gray walls of time, writ in letters ominously large, are the words, "They never come back." And some of them don't.

Jeffries, the fighter—Walsh, the spittball pitcher—McLoughlin, the tennis meteor.

But here and there along the way you find the inevitable exception, the abrupt turn in the long road.

MacDonald Smith has just made the turn and now for the first time in more than 10 years is back on the heights of golf, mingling with the giants of the game. Smith recently won the open championship of California from a field easily comparable to the one that was completed in the national open at Inwood last summer. Smith won largely through the wizardry of his putter and finished with a winning total well under 300.

In years gone by MacDonald Smith, youngest and most brilliant of a famous family of golfers, was the country's high ranking professional. In 1910 he tied with his older brother, Alex, and Jack McRobert for the open championship, only to be beaten in the 18-hole playoff. For a stretch of several years he was well up among the leaders in the professional classes.

Then, with the promise of a continued brilliant future at his feet, Smith disappeared from the competitive field, completely and mysteriously. The big tournaments came and went, but Smith was not among the competitors. There were whispering rumors; he had lost his funds, become discouraged, succumbed to the white lights, given up the game.

MACDONALD SMITH

A year or so ago a brief news dispatch came out of the west announcing the marriage of one MacDonald Smith, a golfer. Months later came word that this same Smith had broken a course record in California and subsequently had starred in the California championship.

In the spring when a squad of Americans sailed for Tron to compete in the British open this same Smith was with them. Smith finished third in the event, just back of Walter Hagen, defending champion, and was one of the most feared players in the tournament.

That was the beginning of a notable comeback—a comeback that had its inception at a church altar and its climax on a Los Angeles golf course a few days ago when the 'prodigal of the links' won his first big championship in more than 10 years.

NEWS OF OUR NEIGHBORS

WILTON.

Mr. and Mrs. William Morrison have returned to their home at Robinson after a week's stay in Wilton, the guests of Mrs. Robinson's mother, Mrs. Sophia Lukens.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Johnson have returned to their home at Minneapolis, from which point they were called by the death of Mr. Victor Johnson who was a brother of Mrs. Johnson.

Marion O'Brien has recently returned from a visit to Red Lake Falls, Minn., where he went expecting to file on a homestead. After looking the section over, however, he decided it was not suited to his needs. Mr. O'Brien expects to visit points in western Wyoming this spring with a view to homesteading if he finds a suitable place.

The play which was given in the Grand theater last Saturday night by the Chicago Lyceum Players was well attended and very much enjoyed by the spectators. A comedy-drama was presented, and a number of readings and musical hits helped make the evening pass quickly.

Ben Lawyer of Wing, who has recently accepted a position in a bank at McKenzie, visited in the Lignite city Monday. Mr. Lawyer stated he would not move his family to McKenzie this winter as they are nicely located in Wing. The bank at Wing, of which Mr. Lawyer is cashier, is liquidating and at a recent meeting of the directors it was decided to pay off all depositors as soon as possible and close the bank for good. This will leave Wing with one banking institution which is sufficient to supply the needs of the people of that district.

William Laveen of the Kelly Sales company of New Rockford was a business caller in Wilton the fore part of the week. Mr. Laveen and family at one time resided in the Lignite city at which time he was one of our popular merchants. He says he is doing well in his work and his looks go to prove it.

V. D. Heston, manager of the Mandan Mercantile company who left here last week for Iowa has notified relatives he arrived at his destination safely and is enjoying himself very much. He is not expected back for several weeks.

The little five months old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dilly succumbed to convulsions from an attack of measles last Sunday evening. Little Harry was a lovely child and will be sadly missed from our community. Funeral services were held in Wilton. The bereaved parents have the sympathy of the entire neighborhood.

Addison Lukens, one of Wilton's best known residents passed away Saturday from an attack of paralysis from which he never regained consciousness. Mr. Lukens was cutting up some meat when the attack came without warning. Funeral services were held at the family home, interment in Riverview cemetery.

Miss Ida Hartsteth left last week for the Twin Cities, where she will enter one of the high schools preparatory to college.

Mrs. Hattie Grantham has returned from a week's stay in the Capital City.

Fred Nelson, one of our well known young men about town, has entered a Bismarck hospital for treatment.

County agent, A. L. Norling, stopped in Wilton on his way home from the big corn show which was held in Bismarck last week. Mr. Norling was well pleased at the outcome of the show, and also well pleased with the way our county showed up among the champion corn growers of the state.

Miss Lena Kiefer has returned from a short visit with friends in the Capital City.

Miss Esther Carlson has returned to Mandan after a pleasant week-end visit with Wilton friends. Miss Carlson is employed as teacher in the Mandan schools.

I. X. Maxwell, well known diversified farming exponent, spent several days last week in Bismarck where he attended the corn show.

A. Hartstein, proprietor of the Gold Cr. Rule store has gone to the Twin Cities, where he will lay in his spring supply of goods. Mr. Hartstein will be gone about a week.

A baby girl has arrived at the George Burck home.

George Wallen, former assistant at the local depot, but now employed in Jamestown, visited with his family in Wilton part of last week.

John Kanski was taken to Bismarck last week by Sheriff Maxwell, where he pleaded guilty to manufacturing illicit whiskey and received a stiff sentence from the judge. Kanski is in the Bismarck jail.

Mrs. Nellie Gillmore has returned from a visit with her son, William Gillmore and family of Spokane, Wash.

ed at the Corn Show in Bismarck last week.

O. B. Peterson of the Naughton district was business caller in town Saturday afternoon.

Miss Wilma Graham has returned to Wilton after a short visit over the week end with relatives in Baldwin.

Mike Ryan who has been on the sick list the past week is some improved according to his friends.

Merl White, who has been suffering with a lame back reports it is a little better. Mr. White suffered a serious accident last summer when he was caught between two horses and badly crushed and he was never entirely recovered from its effects.

Ed Lewis was going around Saturday getting petitions signed for Coolidge for president. Quite a few local residents signed the petition.

Frank Koehler, Sr., who lives in the western part of Burnt Creek township was a caller in town the fore part of the week.

A number of farmers residing in this district went to the capital city to attend the Corn Show last week.

Miss Ida Carlson has gone to Bismarck where she will take treatments at one of the hospitals. Miss Carlson has been in poor health for some time and many friends hope that she may be benefitted.

Porter Nelson has returned from a week's stay in the capital city.

Miss Rose Sorch has returned to her employment in Bismarck after a pleasant visit over the week end with her folks north of town.

Paul Hogue, well known young farmer of the Riverview district was looking after business matters here early in the week.

Mrs. William Paul of the Burnt Creek district was a visitor in town last Monday afternoon.

J. M. Thompson, auctioneer and farmer of the Wilton district was here Monday afternoon on a business mission.

Sam Brown of the Cronwell neighborhood was a caller in town the middle of the week.

Fred Sabot of Regan was seen in our midst the latter part of the week.

Fred Klawitter, well known farmer of the Burnt Creek district was transacting business in town early in the week. Fred said he was well pleased with the winter so far and hoped it would pass the same way.

Elmer Schoelcraft and Seth Strandemo were business callers in town Saturday.

Otto Hogue and Richard Borne were among the business callers in town the latter part of the week.

A car of hogs was shipped from the local stockyards Friday afternoon.

The driver of the Bismarck-Minot bus reports business quite heavy since the cold weather and there has had to be several extra busses put on the route to handle the business at times.

Word received from the J. L. Lamb family who left here last fall for Washington is to the effect that they like their new home and are getting along fine. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Rupp who left here last spring are also doing very nicely in their new home according to letters received from them by friends. Mrs. Rupp was formerly Miss Leota Lamb, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Lamb.

According to local farmers who have been paying their taxes the past week the taxes on real estate are no lower than they were last year, although since the uproar about the high personal property taxes different state and county officials have assured us the tax on land has been much reduced. The farmer cannot help thinking he is being imposed on since his land is taxed as high as ever and in addition the exemption on his farm equipment and household furniture has been done away with. In fact, the farmer's viewpoint he is worse off now than he was, since he must pay a high personal property tax on everything he has without any exemptions and no reduction on his land to speak of, if any.

STEFANSSON TO EXPLORE AGAIN

Grand Forks, N. D., Jan. 30.—Vilhjalmr Stefansson, Arctic explorer and former Dakotan, expects to sail for Australia early in May to spend several months in the exploration of the great central desert of the Australian continent, he announced here today.
 Mr. Stefansson stopped off in Grand Forks for a few hours on his way to Bendish, Minn.
 The object of his Australian explorations will be to determine if the regions of that continent are as unfit for inhabitants as has been generally supposed, or whether the name Australian "desert" is as much a misnomer as the "great American desert" formerly found in Atlases.
 Mr. Stefansson will be in Australia until October and may then go to Africa, he said.

INTEREST IN WHEAT GOOD

Shows Stronger in Trading on Chicago Market

Chicago, Jan. 30.—More interest was taken in wheat today in the early dealings than has recently been the rule. There was considerable speculative buying, based chiefly on the smallness of receipts and on possibilities of crop damage. After opening unchanged to one-fourth cent higher, May $1.10 to $1.10½ and July $1.08 the market scored slight further gains.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK

Chicago, Jan. 30.—Hog receipts 48,000. Fairly active. Mostly 10c to 20c lower than yesterday's average. Top $7.00.
 Cattle receipts 10,000. Better grades beef steers generally steady. Most fed steers $7.75 to $9.50. Sheep receipts 7,000. Active, fat-wooled lambs mostly 25c higher.

SOUTH ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK

South St. Paul, Jan. 30.—Cattle receipts 2,200. Generally steady. Few early sales. Best steers $8.50. One load of good grades unsold, bulk $8.00 and down. Bulk cows and heifers mostly $5.50 to $6.00. Small yearling heifers up to $7.50. Canners and cutters $2.25 to $3.25. Holstein bulls firm, active, bulk $1.75 and down. Few choice heaves up to $2.00 or better. Steers and feeders moderately active on better grades. Others about steady. Cakes receipts 2,500. Big quarter higher. Best lights to packers mostly $10.25. Shipper's paying upward to $10.75. Seconds $6.00 to $6.50.

Hog receipts 24,000. Ten to 15c lower. Bulk butcher and bacon hogs averaging mostly from 150 to around 250 pounds $6.75 to $6.65. $6.60 bid.

For choice heavy butchers. Two loads choice heavy butchers sold late yesterday at $6.70. Bulk packing hogs today $6.75. Feeder pigs mostly $5.25. Strongweight killers $5.75. Sheep receipts 1,000. Steady. Three doubles fed western lambs sold. Native fed western lambs $13.00 to $13.25. Culls mostly $9.50. Heavies $11.50. Light-weights mostly $7.75.

MINNEAPOLIS FLOUR

Minneapolis, Jan. 30.—Flour unchanged. Shipments 39,715 barrels. Bran $23.50 to $27.00.

Her Ideal Fulfilled, Carrie Chapman Catt, "Citizen of World," Prepares To Retire

MRS. CARRIE CHAPMAN CATT

BY DON E. P. DROHAN
 News Service Writer
 Cleveland, Jan. 30.—Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, apostle of world-wide women's suffrage, announces she's ready to retire.

She has won her fight. Nearly two score countries have accepted her creed. She has earned the title, "citizen of the world."

This former girl superintendent of schools and wife of a weekly newspaper editor in a little Iowa town has carried her gospel to practically every corner of the universe.

On three oceans and in North and South America, Europe, Asia—even Africa—she has preached the doctrine of equal rights for all women.

Thirty-six nations with full suffrage and three more with partial suffrage for her sisters remain as enduring monuments to Mrs. Catt's devotion to the cause she loves.

Of course a few barriers remain. But these merely are legal technicalities in man-made constitutions, Mrs. Catt points out. They will be obliterated in a few years, she believes.

Mrs. Catt actually left the front lines two years ago, when she resigned the presidency of the International Woman's Suffrage Alliance, which she had led for years.

But she didn't leave the public eye. Since her return from a European trip she has been "stumping" for peace, pleading with men and women to outlast all war forever.

She believes she has helped sway public sentiment in that direction, too.

"I have made my last peace talk," she declares.

When Politeness Pays

LONDON London's "gentleman burglar" will have a bank account when he's released from prison six years hence. Just after he was sentenced, magistrates and constables made a little deposit to his credit. He had pleaded he'd never been given a chance to redeem himself after he was first sentenced on a minor charge while in his teens. The man, looked under an alias, is the son of an army officer. Before leaving the courtroom, he thanked constables and jailers for the courteous treatment they accorded him after his arrest. He had confessed to entering 19

INTEREST IN WHEAT GOOD

Shows Stronger in Trading on Chicago Market

Chicago, Jan. 30.—More interest was taken in wheat today in the early dealings than has recently been the rule. There was considerable speculative buying, based chiefly on the smallness of receipts and on possibilities of crop damage. After opening unchanged to one-fourth cent higher, May $1.10 to $1.10 1/2 and July $1.08 the market scored slight further gains.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK
 Chicago, Jan. 30.—Hog receipts 48,000. Fairly active. Mostly 10c to 20c lower than yesterday's average. Top $7.00.

Cattle receipts 10,000. Better grades beef steers generally steady. Most fed steers $7.75 to $9.50. Sheep receipts 7,000. Active, fat woolled lambs mostly 25c higher.

SOUTH ST. PAUL LIVESTOCK
 South St. Paul, Jan. 30.—Cattle receipts 2,200. Opening generally steady. Few early sales best steers $8.50. One load of good grades unsold, bulk $8.00 and down. Bulk cows and heifers mostly $5.50 to $6.00. Small yearling heifers up to $7.50. Canners and cutters $2.25 to $3.25. Bologna bulls firm, active, bulk $1.75 and down. Few choice heavies upward to $5.00 or better. Stockers and feeders moderately active on better grades. Others about steady. Cakes receipts 2,300. Big quarter higher. Best lights to packers mostly $10.25. Shippers paying upward to $10.75. Seconds $5.00 to $5.50.

Hog receipts 23,000. Ten to 15c lower. Bulk butcher and bacon hogs averaging mostly from 150 to around 250 pounds $6.50 to $6.65, $6.60 bid for choice heavy butchers. Two loads choice heavy butchers sold late yesterday at $6.70. Bulk packing sows today $5.75. Feeder pigs mostly $5.25. Strongweight killers $5.75. Sheep receipts 1,000. JURY TERM IS ENDED; MUCH WORK IS DONE

Jurors in the District Court Are Sent to Their Homes After Conclusion

LAST MAN GUILTY

Jury Finds Elias Elleflood Guilty — Bennett Case Dismissed

The jury in the December term of district court of Burleigh county was dismissed last night by Judge James A. Coffey of Jamestown, who presided, after having grinded away steadily for several weeks and disposed of a large number of cases on the calendar. Judge Coffey thanked the jurors for their strict attention to duty, which resulted in the completion of a great deal of business.

The last jury case was that of the state against Elias Elleflood, farmer living south of Driscoll, who was charged with having in his possession apparatus for the manufacture of liquor. State officers testified they found apparatus at various places, some of it apparently hidden away from possible search. Elleflood maintained that some man left the apparatus there.

The jury found him guilty and he answered before Judge Thomas Pugh of Dickinson, who had been called in the case because of an affidavit of prejudice, for sentence. The sentence was six months in jail, a fine of $200 and costs, with the stipulation by the judge that if at the end of 60 days the fine and costs are paid the court will hear an application for suspension of the remainder of the sentence.

Must Be Enforced
"This prohibition law must be enforced and I believe the courts will do it," said Judge Pugh. He said he believed the verdict of the jury was correct.

C. L. Cram, attorney for Elleflood, made a plea for clemency. He called attention to the fact that the regular panel was exhausted and several other jurors called in and that, peremptory challenges being exhausted, the defendant was required to accept as a juror a man who not only said he belonged to societies for the enforcement of the prohibition law but contributed to them and to anti-cigarette societies, and that possibly the juror was prejudiced. He also said Elleflood had been a farmer for 20 years and had helped build up the country. It was the first time he had been convicted on such a charge. He said he believed a suspended sentence was an effective agency in preventing violations of the law.

Judge Pugh said the court was well satisfied the jury was very fair. "Everyone, every taxpayer, contributes to the enforcement of the law," said Judge Pugh. "This juror may have contributed a little more than others but his obligation was to enforce the law. The jurors did nothing more than their duty. You had an opportunity to present your defense. Notwithstanding your story the jury found you guilty, thereby disbelieving your story. I think the judgment was correct. The prohibition law must be enforced and I believe the courts are going to enforce it."

Case Dismissed
The only other case on the calendar had been dismissed late yesterday afternoon on motion of Scott Cameron, attorney for the defense. It was against Jack and Annie Bennett of Bismarck. The cases were brought jointly but separation demanded by defendants. The court dismissed them for want of prosecution, he stated, under the statute which provides that if a case goes over a term without trial it must be dismissed on motion of defendant. The offense was based on the alleged seizure of a quantity of liquor in the Bennett home on or prior to January 13, 1922. Mrs. Bennett was tried in July, 1923, the jury disagreeing. He was not tried.

Judge Coffey will remain here during the week to dispose of various motions and other court procedure. Judge Coffey granted a judgment notwithstanding the verdict to the city of Bismarck in the case brought by F. O. Hellstrom to recover $300 attorneys' fees alleged incurred by the city commission in a public utility case in which he appeared. A jury gave him $100. The court held that the city commission could not incur liability except on a yes and nay vote, citing a supreme court decision.

DOHNEY EXPLAINS THE $100,000 LOAN

Edward L. Dohney (numbered 5), wealthy oil magnate, is photographed above testifying before the Senate committee investigating alleged irregularities in the Teapot Dome Oil Lease. His statement that he personally loaned former Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall $100,000 was received in silence by the committee. The men around the table are: Senator Smoot of Utah (1); Senator Lenroot (2); Senator Pittman (3); Senator Dill (4); Dohney (5) and Senator Cameron (6).

BUT BOK REFUSED TO TELL THEM ANYTHING!

Edward W. Bok (foreground), of Philadelphia, who offered $100,000 for a practical peace plan, was called before a Senate committee to testify as to the amount of money he is spending in the interest of world peace. He refused to give the committee the information it wanted, contending it was personal affair purely. Seated left to right: Senators Shipstead of Minnesota; Green of Vermont; Moses of New Hampshire; Reed of Missouri; and Caraway of Arkansas.

SAYS DAIRYING NOT OVERDONE IN NO. DAKOTA

State Dairy Commissioner Sees Little Likelihood of an Over-production

CONSUMPTION INCREASES

Talked Over-production 15 Years Ago But it Has Not Come to Pass, He Says

Milk prices may not retain the unusually high level of the present and past two or three years, but there is little danger of over-production in dairying, with a resultant disastrous low price level, in the opinion of W. F. Reynolds, state dairy commissioner. Dr. Reynolds, in an analysis of the situation, said today:

"The question is often asked when talking to different groups of people in my travels over the state, where we, as well as others, have been talking diversification, 'If all of us go into milking and raising feed such as corn, sweet clover, alfalfa, etc., will there be an over-production of dairy products?' Citing back to Minnesota records, they have increased their production over 100 percent since 1910 and yet are receiving 35 percent more for their butterfat per pound. They talked over-production 15 years ago but no one is complaining now. In analyzing some of the following figures do not believe that any of us today will ever live to see the time when there is an over-production. Do not misunderstand me as I do believe the price will possibly be lower than it is now, not probably altogether on account of supply and demand but for other reasons, which may be classed as demand. What will cause this will be the factory employees will not probably always be as well employed and will not be consuming the amount of butter they are at the present time.

Consumption Increases
"On the other hand butterfat is higher proportionately than other farm products. Consumption is increasing very rapidly. One of the particular reasons for this is, it is caused by the educational campaigns which have been put on by different schools and institutions plainly describing the food value of milk. The sale of skim milk powder has doubled in the last 5 years. This is used principally in bakeries. The number of cow testing associations has doubled in the last 5 years. These cow testing associations doubling in the last 6 years does not mean that we have doubled the gross amount of milk in the last 6 years. It does mean this, that about 50 percent of the cows that are used for milking purposes now will eventually be eliminated from the herds as they will prove to be unprofitable. This will perhaps eliminate one-fourth of the gross output. The balance of the cows that are kept in the herds will produce possibly at a profit.

The Best Tool For a Big Job

An axe in the hands of a crazy man is a serious menace yet we do not condemn the axe for its wild or foolish application.

Advertising can be—has been—sometimes misused. Like all great forces, it must be intelligently planned and directed.

In the big job of reviving American business, advertising is the best tool that money can buy. Let's use it — boldly and well!
